ON THE COVER

Today, Clemson is saluting one of its most significant graduates, Jerry Butler. Butler will be inducted into Clemson's prestigious Ring of Honor which adorns the facade of the North upper deck of Memorial Stadium. Butler, a wide receiver, came to Clemson without much fanfare, but turned into a special player in the hearts of Tiger fans everywhere. His catch in the win over South Carolina in 1977 clinched Clemson's first bowl berth since 1959 and launched Clemson on a 20-year run in which the Tigers returned to the national spotlight. Butler later went on to a successful career with the Buffalo Bills and is now the wide receivers coach of the Cleveland Browns.

Today's Game

by Tim Bourret

Tigers Look for 200th Win in Death Valley

Clemson will be trying to gain its 200th career win in the history of Clemson Memorial Stadium versus Marshall tonight. The Tigers are 199-78-7 in the previous 284 games in the facility, a winning percentage of .714.

The first touchdown scored by a Tiger player tonight will be the 7000th point scored by Clemson in Death Valley. Clemson has outscored the opposition, 6994-3789 over the previous 57 years of the facility. That is an average victory of 24.6 to 13.3 since the facility was first opened on September 19, 1942.

Marshall will be the 40th different opponent to come to Death Valley. Only seven of the first 39 opponents have a winning record against Clemson in Death Valley, only four of which have played Clemson more than once.

Clemson Schedule Notes

Tommy Bowden picked quite a year to become Clemson's head coach. He will face one of Clemson's toughest schedules in years. Seven bowl teams are on Clemson's 1999 schedule, just the second time in history (1995) that Clemson must face seven teams that went to bowl games the previous season.

*Each of Clemson's first five games are against teams that went to a bowl game last year.

*Clemson must face the top two winningest programs in Division I-A or Division I-AA in the 1990s. The winningest team in the 1990s is Marshall with 101 victories this decade, while Florida State is second with 97.

*Bowden must face three future Hall of Fame coaches in his first season at Clemson. Virginia Coach George Welsh, South Carolina Coach Lou Holtz and of course, Bobby Bowden, Tommy's father, are virtually assured of making the hall shortly after their retirement from the game.

*Clemson plays just five home games this year, the first time since 1986 and just the second time since 1976 that Clemson has played just five games in Death Valley in a season. Clemson will make up for that in 2000 when the Tigers play seven home games.

*While Clemson plays three of its first four games at home, the Tigers must go on the road for five of the last seven, including each of the last two. Clemson has just two home games after October 3.

*Clemson will play all Division I-A opponents this year, the first time that has happened since 1985. That year Clemson played Kentucky, South Carolina and Virginia Tech outside the league and finished with a 6-6 record.

Robert Carswell - Thorpe Award Candidate

Clemson free safety Robert Carswell is one of 37 preseason candidates for the Jim Thorpe Award. The honor is presented by the Jim Thorpe Association of Oklahoma City, OK and given each year to the top defensive back in the nation. The award will be announced in December as part of ESPN's College Football Awards show.

Carswell is one of five ACC players on the list. The other conference players are Tay Cody of Florida State, Mario Edwards of Florida State, Lloyd Harrison of NC State, and Travares Tillman of Georgia Tech.

Just two Clemson players in history have reached the semifinals of the voting stage by the Thorpe committee. Donnell Woolford was one of 16 semifinalists in 1988, while Antwan Edwards was one of 10 semifinalists last season.

Carswell is just a junior, but was one of the top tacklers among defensive backs in the nation last year. He was tied for ninth nationally in total tackles among defensive backs and is listed as the fourth best free safety in the nation entering this season according to the Sporting News.

The native of Georgia, who narrowed his college choices to Clemson and Notre Dame coming out of high school, is also a third-team preseason All-American according to some preseason magazines and a consensus first-team All-ACC pick.

Carswell has been a team leader during the preseason according to Tommy Bowden. "With such a young team you need some underclassmen to step up in terms of leadership. Robert Carswell has done that and then some. He is always in the right place."

Carswell has 153 tackles in two years, already more than halfway to Terry Kinard's Clemson record for tackles by a defensive back. He has started 17 of his 23 career games and has 10 passes broken up. He had six double-figure tackle games and has had at least eight tackles in 10 of the last 11 games.

DoMarco Fox will join Carswell in the secondary over the course of the season. His status for the Marshall game is questionable due to a sprained knee and sprained ankle suffered on the same play of an August 25th scrimmage. Fox has 21 career starts, more than any other active Tiger, and he has also been a preseason All-ACC selection by some services and polls.

Wofford-Lawyer Challenge Duo Receiving Record

While the 1999 Clemson football team is young in the offensive line, the wide receiver corps has experience. For the first time in school history, Clemson has four players returning who had at least 20 receptions the previous year.

Seniors Brian Wofford and Mal Lawyer lead the group. Both are natives of South Carolina and classmates who have combined for 138 receptions for 1923 yards and 16 touchdowns. They are already ranked eighth in Clemson history among receiving duos from the same class.

The record is 216 catches by Perry Tuttle (150) and Jerry Gaillard (66) from 1978-81. They celebrated a national championship in their senior season. Lawyer and Wofford are just 47 catches out of second place, 79 from breaking the record.

Wofford and Lawyer are already both in the top 20 in Clemson history in total receptions. Wofford is tied for 11th with Keith Jennings on the reception list with 78, while Lawyer is 18th with 60. Wofford has 10 career touchdowns, tied for 10th in school history with Bennie Cunningham.

The native of Spartanburg, SC is nine TD catches shy of breaking the school record, a mark that has stood since 1951. Glenn Smith had 18 touchdown receptions for the Tigers between 1949-51. If he can reach nine touchdown catches this year he will break two records, the career and single season marks.

Tigers Have Young Team

Clemson will open the season with a very young team. Of the top 44 players on the two-deep, 12 are freshmen and 12 are sophomores. The junior class has 13 and there are only seven seniors.

When it comes to starters, the distribution is seven seniors, six juniors, eight sophomores and one freshman. Youth is dominant in the offensive line and at linebacker. Four sophomores are currently listed as starters in the offensive line (T.J. Watkins, Akil Smith, Kyle Young and Will Merritt) and none are seniors. The offensive line has no returning starter for the first time since 1943.

The last time Clemson did not start a senior in the offensive line was 1994. The last time Clemson started four sophomores in the offensive line was 1986, a year that was one of Clemson's most successful, 8-2-2 record with an ACC and Gator Bowl championship.

Clemson is also young on defense, especially at linebacker. Reggie Herring's group might be the youngest in history. There is just one junior (Kenzi Ross) and no seniors on his linebacker unit. All three starters are sophomores, the first time since 1983 that Clemson has started three sophomores or freshmen at linebacker. Five of the top six linebackers are freshmen or sophomores this year.

Marshall Among the Nation's Best

How good has Marshall been in the 1990s? How about more wins than Florida State, the benchmark for greatness in all Division I programs. Marshall has 101 wins this decade, including eight straight double-digit win seasons, compared to Florida State's 97 wins. Nebraska has 96 and Florida 93 to rank three and four, respectively.

Marshall received national attention when Randy Moss played for the Thundering Herd in 1996 and 1997. He made a mockery of the school's records and broke many Division I marks. People found out last year that Moss could do those things against anyone, as he was the Rookie of the Year and might have been the best offensive player in the entire league while making acrobatic plays for the Minnesota Vikings.

Marshall was 25-3 with Moss in the lineup for two years. But, fans that thought their level of success would decline when he left were proven wrong. Marshall raced to a 12-1 record last year, including wins over South Carolina and Louisville in the Motor City Bowl.

Who started all this? A coach now just 75 miles from Clemson turned the program around. Jim Donnan, now the head coach at Georgia, took over at Marshall in 1990. After a 6-5 first year, he guided Marshall to an 11-4 mark his second year. He never won less than 11 games between 1991-1995.

The final polls of 1998 and preseason polls of 1999 tell us that Marshall's national respect level continues to rise. Coach Bob Pruett's team finished 27th or 26th in the final Sporting News, Associated Press and USA Today polls last year and rank 27th in the preseason polls for AP and USA Today this year. Lindy's has Marshall ranked 15th in its preseason list for this season.

Pruett has continued the greatness, winning 22 games in his first two years at the Division I level. No coach this century has won more games in his first two years than Pruett.

Pennington Will Challenge Clemson Secondary

While Randy Moss is long gone from the Marshall program, the Thundering Herd still have a star leader, one who could join Moss in the NFL next year. Quarterback Chad Pennington is near the top of the list of every NFL scouting service, Heisman Trophy list and Davey O'Brien list published.

The native of Knoxville, TN is the only returning player to college football from the 1998 list of 10 Davey O'Brien finalists, the award given to the top quarterback in the nation. A look to the stats tells us why Pennington is so highly regarded.

First, Marshall has a 34-6 record with Pennington under center. That is 34 wins entering his senior year. Rodney Williams had 32 victories at Clemson in his four seasons and that is still the ACC record.

When it comes to throwing the ball, Pennington will be chasing many national records. He already has 10,102 career-passing yards, 702 completions and 85 touchdown passes against just 34 interceptions. He threw 39 touchdown passes in 1997, most ever by a sophomore.

In addition to his on the field accomplishments, Pennington is the winner of the 1999 Anson Mount Award, an honor presented to the top football playing student-athlete in the nation.

Pennington's ability will prove to be a considerable challenge for Clemson's secondary, regarded as one of the strengths of the Clemson team. The Tigers have three starters returning in the secondary, Robert Carswell, DoMarco Fox and Alex Ardley. The fourth starter, Dextra Polite, is a senior with two years of previous experience and he has had an outstanding pre-season camp.

Darrel Crutchfield, who had two interceptions in the final preseason scrimmage, also has experience as a starter, while Brian Mance and Kevin Johnson are two first-year freshmen who were among the most highly recruited players on Clemson's 1999 signee class. Both have been outstanding in the preseason.

Clemson's 1999 Senior Class

Clemson has its smallest senior class since 1985. Tommy Bowden's first Clemson team has just seven senior players who came to Clemson as original scholarship players and that includes Terry Witherspoon, who could be granted another year of eligibility.

Overall, there are 13 seniors on the team (including Witherspoon and walk-ons) and nine of them are on scholarship. A couple of original walk-ons who are now seniors were granted scholarships by the Tiger coaching staff.

Heading into this year the senior class is composed of Bob Bradford (RB), David Evans (DB), DoMarco Fox (DB), Tucker Hamrick (Holder), Mal Lawyer (WR), Damonte McKenzie (DT), Dextra Polite (CB), Darius Rapley (LB), Michael Straup (P), Jason Stockunas (WR), Brandon Streeter (QB), Terry Witherspoon (FB), and Brian Wofford (WR).

Tiger Offensive Line Light, but Quick

One of the keys to success for Tommy Bowden's teams at Tulane was quickness across the offensive line. His teams wore down the opposition with speed and the pace of the game, not with bulldozing strength.

Akil Smith (61) is one of four sophomores listed as starters on the offensive line.

That will be the approach offensively this year as he institutes an up-tempo attack that will feature a game-long two-minute offense with four and sometimes five wide receivers. That means the offensive linemen will have to be able to run all day.

An intense spring practice, offseason and prefall conditioning program have put the Tigers in lean, mean fighting machine shape. The average weight of Clemson's five starting interior linemen is just 259.4 pounds. That might be the smallest among the 114 Division I schools.

The most dramatic example of the change is demonstrated by a comparison with last year. Clemson's five interior offensive linemen averaged 303.6 pounds per man in 1998. Thus, we see a drop of 44 pounds per man in weight across the offensive line this year as compared to last season.

Clemson's 1997 team had an all-time high average weight of 304 pounds. You might be surprised to learn, however, that we don't have to go back very far to find the last time Clemson's starting offensive line was this small in terms of weight. The 1985 interior starters averaged 258 pounds across the front. The 1981 National Championship offensive line averaged just 234.4 pounds per man.

Kyle Young and Akil Smith are the leaders in terms of experience at their position. Smith, who played 240 snaps at tackle last year, more than any other first-year freshman offensive lineman in over two decades, has moved to guard this year. Young started the last four games at tackle last year, but will be the starting center this year, a position he played as a high school senior when he was named Mr. Football in the state of South Carolina.

Speed and agility are the watchwords for the entire Clemson team. Out of the 120 players who come to practice each day, only one is over 300 pounds.

Streeter Has Degree and Records

Clemson quarterback Brandon Streeter earned his undergraduate degree in health science this past May and is taking graduate school courses this year. Streeter is the son of Gettysburg Head Football Coach Barry Streeter and you will see in a feature story next week that Brandon has certainly benefited from his father's experience in the game and when it comes to academics.

On the field, Streeter has been in a battle with Woodrow Dantzler for the starting quarterback position in tonight's game with Marshall. It is a battle that will probably go down to the wire.

Streeter is the returning starter from last year. He came on strong at the end of last year when he completed 74-133 for 887 yards and nine touchdowns over the last four games of the year. He had his best game against NC State when he was 27-38 for 329 yards and three scores. The 27 completions and 329 yards passing were all-time Clemson records. He might have had the greatest second half in Clemson history in that game, completing 20-25 and leading Clemson to 303 yards of total offense and 15 first downs.

Large Crowd Expected for Marshall Game

Clemson Ticket Manager Van Hilderbrand expects the Clemson vs. Marshall attendance to be the largest Clemson home opening day crowd in the last 10 years. Over 75,000 fans are expected to attend tonight's contest that will kickoff at 6:00 PM, the first time Clemson has started the season with a home night game since 1956.

If 75,000 fans turn out for the Marshall game it will be the largest season opening home attendance game since 1989 when a season opener record crowd of 80,508 attended the Furman game. The Georgia game in 1985, which was played on September 21, but was Clemson's home opener that year, attracted 80,473. Clemson has had over 75,000 for its home opener just five times since 1983, the year the North upperdeck was completed and capacity rose to over 81,000.

Clemson in Openers

Clemson has won 13 of its last 15 season openers. The only opening losses since 1983 took place in 1986 at Clemson when Virginia Tech and Coach Bill Dooley upset the Tigers, 20-14, and at North Carolina in Chapel Hill in 1996. That 1986 game with Virginia Tech was a battle of eventual bowl teams, as the Tigers ended the year 8-2-2 and ranked 17th in the nation, while Virginia Tech was 9-2-1 and ranked 20th in the final poll.

Even though this is the 104th season of Clemson football, Clemson has had just 98 home openers in its history because five seasons Clemson did not play a game at home. In the 98 home openers Clemson has a 75-15-8 record against 26 different opponents. Clemson has nearly an identical record in terms of the first game of the season. The Tigers are 77-18-8, regardless of site, in their first game of the season.

First Games of Clemson Coaches

*Clemson scored a touchdown on the first play
Frank Howard called as a Tiger coach.*

by Tim Bourret

If history is any indication, this should be a landmark day in Clemson football history. Tommy Bowden makes his debut as head coach of the Tigers and with a large crowd and preseason top 25 opponent in town, it promises to be a festive atmosphere.

Bowden's predecessors have had memorable debuts. Most of the memories have been pleasant, as Clemson coaches are 14-4-5 in program debut games, a 72 percent winning percentage. Six of the last seven head coaches have won their debut game with the only loss going to Charley Pell, who battled a 10th-ranked Maryland team to a 21-14 verdict that favored the Terps. In fact, Pell is the only Clemson coach to lose his first game since 1921. In addition to the six wins, there have been three ties by first game Tiger mentors in this 78-year time period.

Walter Riggs coached Clemson in not only his debut game, but also the program's debut. In 1896, Clemson won its first game in history 14-6 at Furman. Riggs might have recorded the top first-game coaching performance of all because his first team did not begin practicing until October 5, 1896, just 23 days prior to the first game. He had 30 players attend that first practice and he took just 21 to Furman for that first game. With most of his team seeing a full sized football gridiron for the first time, the Tigers pulled off the victory over the Paladins.

The most impressive debut for a Clemson coach from a score standpoint was turned in by John Heisman. In 1900, he opened his Clemson career with a 64-0 victory over Davidson, still the largest margin of victory in Clemson history for a coach in his first game. Heisman did not stop with that opener, as his Tigers went on to a perfect 6-0 season, Clemson's only perfect season in the first 52 years of the sport. He would also defeat South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama in his debut season.

Not all Clemson coaching debuts have resulted in Tiger victories, even for some of its best coaches. Jess Neely tied Presbyterian 0-0 in 1931 in his first game as Clemson head coach. By his last game however, he had the Tigers in the Cotton Bowl, a 7-6 win over Boston College and Frank Leahy, who is still the second winningest coach in college football history on a percentage basis.

Neely was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame upon the completion of his career. He left the Tiger program in the hands of his top assistant coach, Frank Howard, in 1940. Howard's first game was also against Presbyterian, but Howard showed how far the program had come with a 38-0 victory on the road.

Howard called an end-around on his first play as head coach and George Floyd ran 18 yards for a touchdown. Howard went on to win 165 games at Clemson and he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

Each of the last three Clemson coaches have had celebrated debut games. Only eight coaches in college football history have made their coaching debut with a program in a bowl game and 25 percent of those coaches were from Clemson. In 1978, Danny Ford made his debut in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, FL against Big Ten power Ohio State and Woody Hayes.

What a debut for Ford, who was only 30-years-old, at the time the youngest head coach in the nation. Not only was it his first game, he was coaching against a future Hall of Famer, a ranked Big Ten team, on national television. Then the game was even more exciting.

Behind Steve Fuller and Jerry Butler on offense, and Bubba Brown and Jim Stuckey on defense, Clemson held a 17-15 lead in the final two minutes. Freshman quarterback Art Schlichter brought the Buckeyes back to field goal range.

But, on a third-and-five from the Clemson 24, second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman intercepted a pass over the middle, the only interception of his career. He ran the ball back and was knocked out of bounds near the Ohio State bench. A frustrated Woody Hayes swung at Bauman after he got up, hitting him squarely in the throat. The Tigers ran out the clock and the coaching career of Woody Hayes. The next day, Ohio State fired Hayes and Danny Ford's accomplishments were moved to the background, at least nationally. Three years later he got his due, coaching Clemson to its only National Championship.

Ken Hatfield succeeded Ford in 1990. His first game was in the friendly confines of Death Valley against Long Beach State. The game attracted quite a media contingent. In addition to it being Hatfield's first game, it was also the return to coaching of NFL Hall of Famer George Allen, who took over the Long Beach program the previous spring. Newspapers from New York to Chicago to

Los Angeles covered the contest...which really wasn't a contest at all. Clemson scored 10 more points than the 49ers nickname in registering the shutout victory.

Tommy West's debut as Clemson coach could be called the most unusual in coaching history. Not only was he making his debut in a bowl game, the Peach Bowl against Kentucky, he was taking over a program without having coached the team during the recent regular season. West had spent the regular season as the head coach at UT-Chattanooga, then replaced Ken Hatfield in December.

During bowl game workouts, Clemson players, even seniors, had to wear their names across their helmets so the coaches knew who they were. Some of the red-shirt seniors had been on the Clemson team of 1989 when West had been an assistant, so they bridged the gap.

Those veteran players were key to the 14-13 Clemson victory. Stacy Seegars forced a fumble on an interception return by Wildcat linebacker Marty Moore. Fellow fifth-year senior Brent LeJeune recovered it at the Clemson 21. With 20 seconds remaining, Patrick Sapp, now a linebacker in the NFL, connected with Terry Smith for the winning touchdown, the latest Clemson touchdown to win a game since 1958.

Now we have reached the debut game of Tommy Bowden. While his predecessors have had challenges in their openers, he will not have an easy task either. Marshall enters today's game ranked as high as 15th in one preseason poll and the Thundering Herd are rated 27th by the dean of polls, the Associated Press. The Marshall program has won 101 games in the 1990s, the highest total in college football.

The scene is set for another historic debut game in Clemson coaching history.

Dextra Polite

by Marsha Byers

After working hard for several months in preparation for the 1999 season, senior cornerback Dextra Polite is anxious to begin his final campaign as a Clemson Tiger. The Moultrie, GA native has been waiting for two long years to start and feels he is ready to show the new coaching staff and Clemson fans what he is made of.

Fans saw a glimpse of Polite's ability during last season's game versus Georgia Tech in Death Valley when he played in place of the injured Antwan Edwards. Edwards, a first-team All-America selection by Football Digest last season, is now a member of the Green Bay Packers. Polite played a solid game versus the Yellow Jackets, seeing action in 75 snaps and finishing the contest with four tackles and a pass broken up.

"I got some satisfaction from that game because I felt that I stepped up and did what I had to do to help the team," commented Polite. The Georgia Tech game is the only start of Polite's career; however, he did play in all 11 games for the Tigers last season. One of the key influences on Polite throughout his career has been Edwards. "Playing behind Antwan really taught me a lot. Throughout his career here, he was a great leader. He was an excellent player and coach to the secondary."

Polite, a speech and communications major who plans to proceed into the broadcasting field, came to Clemson after transferring from Georgia Military College. At Georgia Military College, he was named one of the 11 best junior college prospects in the nation at defensive back by PrepStar and was a second-team Gridwire All-American in 1996. In one season at Georgia Military, Polite had 21 tackles (16 solo), five interceptions, four passes broken up, one sack and six blocked field goals. Three of the six blocked field goals came in one game against Middle Georgia.

Off the field, Polite cites the military college experience as one that taught him how to deal with the problems in today's world. At the school, he learned to deal with day-to-day struggles without having the guidance of his parents to help him. Polite feels the experience made him a well-rounded person and helped him develop leadership skills.

Before arriving at Georgia Military, Polite played his high school football at Colquitt County under coach Jim Hughes. Polite was a standout on a team that went undefeated and won the state championship, then participated in the prestigious Georgia-Florida All-Star Game.

Polite chose to come to Clemson because of its strong defensive tradition. Thanks to the influence of one of his coaches at Georgia Military, Polite felt he would fit into the Clemson defensive scheme.

At Clemson, Polite has played in 19 of the last 23 games. This season will mark his third year playing for the Tigers, making Polite one of the few junior college transfers to play three years at Clemson.

In his first season in orange and white, Polite saw action in eight games. He only made it in for 16 snaps in 1997, but they were an efficient 16 snaps. He had eight tackles, with six coming as first hits. His season high of three tackles came in a road win at Wake Forest that season.

His numbers increased during the 1998 season, when he finished with 16 tackles (11 first hits) and three passes broken up. His playing time significantly increased over the last three games of the season. Of the 170 snaps he saw action in last season, 119 came in the last three games.

Polite has developed an admiration for the new Tiger coaching staff. "The new coaches are very motivated and they help me play to my ability, and not just go through the motions of practice," said Polite. "There is definitely a sense of family among the new coaches. They treat the players like we are their own sons."

His feelings for the coaching staff inspired Polite throughout spring. The two-year letter-winner made a move from reserve cornerback heading into the spring practice, to first-team cornerback at the end of spring. In the spring game, Polite recorded five tackles and two pass deflections. He also recorded an interception in two of the three spring scrimmages.

Polite is hoping that his success in the spring will serve as a springboard for success in the fall. "My two goals heading into my final year at Clemson are to graduate and be the best player on the field that I can be," stated Polite. "I also want to become the type of leader on the field that I know I am capable of becoming."

As a child, Polite loved the game of football. He admired many players and hoped to one day make it big. His favorite football player is Deion Sanders. Sanders' great all-around play has inspired Polite to practice hard in hopes of one day playing like his idol. Polite loves the way Sanders excites the crowd. "Sanders knows how to step up when his team is not doing well. He does something spectacular to excite the crowd. This crowd excitement then ignites the team and soon Sanders' team is back on top. That is the type of player I want to be."

Polite is the youngest of five children and the only male among the siblings. Being the younger brother to four sisters has not been easy, but it has been a learning experience. "Having that many women in the family has taught me how and how not to treat a lady. The experience has taught me what women expect in a man."

In his spare time, Polite enjoys spending time with his teammates and boxing. Boxing helps him to relieve the stress related to practice. He often shadow boxes in front of his mirror to perfect his form.

When reflecting on his Clemson career Polite says he has many good experiences to look back to. "The one that stands out most to me is the challenge of the new coaching staff, and the desire to improve myself for my senior year," said Polite. "I will always remember the great friendships with my teammates as well."

If Polite is able to achieve his goals of play and leadership on the field, Clemson fans and coaches will no doubt be pleased with the end results. With his excellent work ethic he is surely going to do big things for the Tigers in the final season of the century.

Senior Dextra Polite is hoping a successful spring practice will produce a successful season in 1999.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden

It hasn't taken long for Tommy Bowden to have an impact on the Clemson program. The combination of his 19 years of experience as an assistant coach, and his unconscionable two-year resume of accomplishments at Tulane has Clemson fans buzzing.

In the first six months since his December 2, 1998 appointment as Clemson's 23rd head coach there have been many testimonies to the excitement surrounding the Clemson program. First, executive suites at Memorial Stadium sold out by the end of February, the earliest sellout of the premium-priced, 100-suite, 3000-seat area in school history.

Second, the Spring Game attracted a record crowd of 16,500 on April 10th. The record crowds continued on the IPTAY meeting circuit in May. In Charleston, 500 people were expected to attend and 800 showed up. Season tickets are over 50,000, up nearly 5,000 over the previous year. On July 1, IPTAY membership reached a record 21,000 and IPTAY donations reached $9.4 million for the first time ever.

An exciting style of play and an undefeated 1998 season certainly has a lot to do with the recruiting success and fan support for his Clemson program. As current Clemson sophomore quarterback Woodrow Dantzler put it, "The numbers they put up in two years at Tulane were amazing. It makes you gasp for air."

The numbers are truly breathtaking. Bowden inherited a Tulane program that had not been to a bowl game since 1987, had not been ranked since 1979, had not finished a season in the top 20 since 1973, had not won a conference championship since 1949 and had not posted a perfect season since 1931. He reached all of those goals in just his second year as the Green Wave's head coach.

In the two seasons he was the head coach at Tulane, he took a team that had been 4-18 in the two years previous to his arrival, and emotionally and numerically reversed the team's fortunes with an 18-4 record, posted an 11-1 conference mark and finished the 1998 season ranked seventh in the nation by both polls. Tulane and Tennessee were the only undefeated teams in college football in 1998.

How did he accomplish so much in so little time? A major factor was the productive, thrilling offense that had fans and opposing defensive coordinators on the edge of their seats. His Tulane team had a 22-game average of 39.7 points, 5.1 touchdowns, 463 yards of total offense, 270.5 yards passing, and 192.6 yards rushing. The Green Wave averaged 6.34 yards per play, and converted on third down 47 percent of the time. His 22-game offensive averages would be Clemson all-time season records in 12 different categories.

Some say the most telling statistic in terms of wins and losses and the most telling statistic when it comes to coaching ability is turnover margin. The Green Wave ranked fifth in the nation in turnover margin each of his two seasons at Tulane.

It didn't take Bowden long to put Tulane back on the college football landscape. In his first year, Tulane was picked last in the preseason polls of Conference USA. But, he led the New Orleans based school to a 7-4 record, a second-place conference standing with just one league loss, and set 33 school records in the process. The five-game improvement was second best in the nation for the 1997 season.

Tulane's accomplishments on offense were noteworthy in 1997, but their offensive charts reached uncharted areas in 1998. Tulane stood as the only school in the nation that averaged over 300 yards per game passing and 200 yards per game rushing. The team ranked fourth in the nation in total offense (507.1 per game) and second in scoring (45.4 points per game). They were 13th in passing and 23rd in rushing.

The Green Wave scored 40 or more points in eight contests last season, including each of the last seven games. In one game the Green Wave scored 72 points and rolled up 704 yards of total offense. They converted 52 percent of their third-down opportunities for the season and had just 11 turnovers in over 800 plays.

The 1998 season saw Tulane post a perfect 11-0 regular season under Bowden, its first perfect regular season since 1931. The Green Wave won Conference USA, its first league title since Tulane won the SEC in 1949.

Bowden's team ranked seventh in the final AP poll and was a mainstay in the polls beginning with the third week of the season. Tulane had not been ranked at any time since 1979 and had not been ranked in a final poll since 1973. After Bowden accepted the job at Clemson, Tulane defeated BYU in the Liberty Bowl, 41-27.

At season's end, Bowden was a finalist for the Bear Bryant Coach of the Year Award, and just about every other award afforded to Division I coaches. His 11-0 record was just the 17th perfect regular season in college football in the decade of the 1990s.

A look to that list reveals two other coaches named Bowden. His father, Florida State Head Coach Bobby Bowden, had a perfect regular season in 1996, while his brother, Terry, posted a perfect regular season in 1993. Obviously, The Bowdens are the first family of college coaching and this "Wonder Years" environment had a lot to do with Tommy Bowden's decision to enter the coaching world.

The fatherly influence of a college coach who is about to reach 300 career wins, also had an influence on other members of the family. Terry has been a head coach at Samford and Auburn, posting a 45-20-2 record at the latter. Terry will serve as an in-studio commentator for ABC's college football package this year. Jeff Bowden is in his fifth year as wide receivers coach at Florida State.

Tommy Bowden began his college football experience as a walk-on wide receiver at West Virginia. He played for his father between 1973-75 and then for Frank Signetti during the 1976 season. As a junior he caught 15 passes for 189 yards and one score.

Bowden remained at West Virginia for the 1977 season and began his coaching career, serving as a graduate assistant on Signetti's staff. His interest in coaching only became more intense after that first year as a GA. His father then hired him as the secondary coach at Florida State for the 1978 season.

That experience confirmed to Bowden that he was in a profession that would be his life's work. The Seminoles posted a 19-4 mark in his two seasons at Florida State, incredibly similar to his 18-4 record in his first two years as a head coach at Tulane.

In 1980, Bowden joined the staff at East Carolina, where he coached for the Spring practice session of 1980. That spring, he moved to Auburn and served as the Tigers running backs coach for the 1980 season. Among the players he coached was James Brooks, who went on to a 13-year NFL career and is still second in Auburn history in rushing.

In 1981, Bowden returned to Tallahassee as the tight ends coach. In three more years at Florida State, the Seminoles posted a 23-12 mark and played in a pair of bowl games. The 1982 team ranked 13th in the final poll and claimed a 9-3 record and a Gator Bowl championship. In Tommy's five years as an assistant coach under Bobby Bowden at Florida State the Seminoles were 42-16.

In 1984, Bowden accepted his first job as a coordinator. He served under Steve Sloan at Duke as the Blue Devils quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator. It was as the Duke offensive coordinator that Bowden made his first trip to Death Valley as a coach. Among the players Bowden tutored was Anthony Dilweg, who went on to an NFL career.

After three years at Duke, Bowden became the wide receivers coach at Alabama under Bill Curry. It was at Alabama that Bowden refined his offensive coaching prowess under noted offensive mind Homer Smith, then the Alabama Offensive Coordinator.

In 1990, Bowden returned to a coordinator position, serving Kentucky as its offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. That season he helped the Wildcats to their first upper division SEC finish since 1984.

In 1991, Bowden joined Pat Dye at Auburn. He would remain with the SEC Tigers for six years, his longest stint as a college assistant coach. During his tenure, Auburn was a combined 46-20-2, including a perfect 11-0 season in 1993. Auburn had four Associated Press top 25 seasons, including a number-four ranking in 1993 and a number-nine in 1994. The Tigers were 20-1-1 in 1993-94 combined. Bowden served under his brother Terry Bowden for his last four years at Auburn and the Tigers had a 36-9-1 record with both Bowdens on the staff.

After 19 years as an assistant and nine address changes, Bowden's patience paid off with his selection as Tulane's head coach on December 11, 1996. With 18 wins, over 10,000 yards of offense, and nearly 50 school records later, he became the head coach at Clemson.

Born on July 10, 1954, in Birmingham, AL, Bowden is married to the former Linda Joan White, who he first met when the two were in school together at Morgantown High in West Virginia. The couple has two children, Ryan (17), a tight end on the Daniel High School team in Clemson, and Lauren (14) also a student at Daniel.

The Bowden Family: Tommy, Linda, Lauren, and Ryan.

Stadium Information

SEASON TICKET HOLDERS/OTHER VISITORS:

Season ticket holders and other visitors to the stadium are requested to enter Gates 1, 5, 9, 11, or 13. Persons with top deck tickets must enter the stadium via the ramps, which are located behind the North and South Stands. Ramp entrances are adjacent to Gates 1 and 13 on the South side and Gates 5 and 9 on the North side.

HANDICAPPED: Special entrances have been provided at Gates 1, 5 and 13 for the handicapped.

WILL-CALL: Will-call tickets can be picked up at the ticket office at Gate 9.

PASS-OUT HAND STAMPS: Pass-out hand stamps will be available at Gates 1, 5, 7, 9, 11, and 13 and the top decks. Any person leaving the stadium other than with a team pass must have his or her hands stamped, as well as admittance stub, to be readmitted to the stadium.

Gates 4, 6 and 8 are closed prior to the games and are opened for exit purposes only.

TELEPHONE: Pay telephones are located at the stadium ticket offices at Gates 1, 5, 9, 13, top decks.

PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM: The public address system is intended primarily for spectators' information concerning the game. Please do not request the use of the public address system to make social contacts.

RESTROOMS: Ladies' and men's rest-rooms are located between the stands and can be reached by exit from portal.

LOST & FOUND: If any article is lost or found, please report it to the Gate 1 or Gate 10 information booths.

CONCESSION STANDS: Concession stands are located beneath all stands and can be reached from any portal.

PROHIBITED ITEMS: The following items are prohibited in Memorial Stadium: umbrellas, folding chairs, chaise lounges, food and beverage containers of any type, alcoholic beverages, thermos jugs, and ice chests.

NOTICE: Solicitation for any purpose is prohibited at an athletic contest in Clemson Memorial Stadium.

EMERGENCIES

First Aid stations are located at the following places: South Side—Under Section J; North Side—Under Section T; North Top Deck—Under Section K; South Top Deck—Under Section E.

Trained nurses are on hand during each game. Should a doctor be needed, ask any usher, who knows the seat location of doctors. Ambulances are located at Gates 1, 5, 8, and 13.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry.

INSECT STINGS: Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK: The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two or more minutes.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL: Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion." New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

EMERGENCY CALLS: Emergency calls are received in the Security Booth.

THE STADIUM EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBER IS (864) 656-2999.

Now that you've stopped playing the field, maybe it's time to think about another kind of diamond.

Congratulations. You've decided to pop the question.
Now it's time to select that special ring. Make sure it's a Keepsake.

The name Keepsake engraved on the inside of your ring is your assurance of superior quality and lasting value. It tells you that your center diamond has been laser inscribed and authenticated by a certificate to meet the standards known as the 4Cs. Your diamond is Cut to proper proportions, its Clarity is brilliant, its Color is dazzling, its Carat weight is accurate.

It also assures you of a 5th C. Confidence.
Confidence that your Keepsake ring has been mounted by master artisans.
Confidence that its quality is warranted for a lifetime.
Confidence that whichever classic design you choose, she will love it.
And love you for it.

RUNNING DOWN

What has been described as, "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint," actually started out as a matter-of-fact entrance, mainly because of necessity.

The first 20,000 seats in Clemson Memorial Stadium were built and ready for use before the 1942 season. Less than a year before Pearl Harbor was bombed and the United States was at war.

The shortest entry into the stadium was a walk down Williamson Road from Fike Field House's dressing rooms to a gate at the top of the hill behind the east end zone. There were no dressing facilities in the west end zone—only a big clock where the hands turned, and a scoreboard, which was operated by hand.

The team would dress at Fike, walk down Williamson Road, come in the gate underneath where the big scoreboard now stands and jog down the hill for its warmup exercises. There was no fanfare, no cannon shot fired, no tiger paw flag, no Tiger Rag played...just the team making its entrance and lining up to do the side straddle hop.

That's pretty much the way things went for the next 25 years.

Either in 1964 or 1965, S.C. Jones, a member of the Clemson class of 1919, made a trip to California. He stopped at a spot in Death Valley, CA, and picked up this white flint rock.

He presented it to Coach Frank Howard as being from Death Valley, CA, to Death Valley, South Carolina."

The rock laid on the floor in Howard's office in Fike for a year or more. One day Howard was cleaning up his office and he told Gene Willimon, who was the executive secretary of IPTAY, to, "take this rock and throw it over the fence, or out in the ditch...do something with it, but get it out of my office."

Willimon didn't think that was the way a rock should be treated. After all, it had been brought 3000 miles by a very sincere Tiger fan.

By the mid-sixties, Memorial Stadium was pretty well living up to its moniker, Death Valley, because of the number of victories that had been recorded there. Actually, the name was first used by the late Lonnie McMillian, head coach at Presbyterian College in Clinton in the 1940s.

McMillian and the other Blue Hose coaches before him used to open the season each year by coming to Clemson. Seldom scoring (24 shut outs in 39 games) and with only three wins and four ties to show for it, his teams were getting killed by the Tigers regularly. In 1948 McMillian made the comment to the press that he was taking his team to play Clemson in Death Valley.

An occasional reference to Memorial Stadium by that name could be heard for the next three or four years, but when Howard started calling it 'Death Valley' in the 1950's, the name took off like wildfire. The Tigers celebrated the 50th season in the 'valley' in 1991.

But getting back to Howard's rock.

The rock was mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill. It was unveiled September 24, 1966, on a day when Clemson played Virginia. The Tigers were down 18 points with 17 minutes to play and came back to win (40-35) on a 65-yard pass play from Jimmy Addison to Jacky Jackson in the fourth period. That was quite a spectacular debut for that rock.

The team members started rubbing the rock prior to running down the hill September 23, 1967, a day when Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 23-6. Prior to running down the hill that day, Howard told his players: "If you're going to give me 110 percent, you can rub that rock. If you're not, keep your filthy hands off it." Howard told of the incident the next day on his Sunday television show and the story became legend.

When Hootie Ingram succeeded Howard

as head coach prior to the 1970 season, Ingram decided that the team would make its final entrance on the field out of the dressing room in the west end zone. In all home games in 1970 and 1971 and the first four of 1972 when the Tigers did not run down the hill, their record was 6-9. The team decided it wanted to come down the hill once prior to the South Carolina game in 1972. The result, in a cold, freezing rain, was a 7-6 victory when Jimmy Williamson knocked down a two-point conversion attempt which preserved the win.

The Tigers have made the entrance for every home game since 1942, except for the seasons mentioned above—268 times heading into the 1999 season.

After Clemson's final warm-up, the team goes back into its dressing room under the west end zone stands for final game instructions. About 10 minutes before kickoff the team boards two buses, rides around behind the north stands to the east end zone and debarks to the top of the hill behind Howard's Rock.

At the appointed time, the cannon booms and led by a high-flying tiger paw flag, the band forms two lines for the team to run between and strikes up 'Tiger Rag'...The frenzy starts in all sincerity...and usually lasts two and a half to three hours.

It is a tradition that has inspired Clemson players for many years.

IPTAY is widely regarded nationally as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung into an organization that raised a record $9.5 million last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 19 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that contribute to the well-being of student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumulative GPA on record for five consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, currently helping over 30 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson.

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going, and he accepted."

Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about, this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one manager's position in the first year. Now there are over 70 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number-three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett.

"We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports.

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

Know the Rules

Clemson University is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC). These organizations allow us to develop rules that help provide equitable competition opportunities. All of us associated with Clemson and Tiger athletics are obliged to follow the rules of these organizations. We will enjoy the championship competition provided by the NCAA and the ACC - and we will support the Tigers within the guidelines - so that we do our part to protect amateur sports!

Clemson joins other NCAA and ACC member schools in promoting principles of sportsmanship and ethical conduct. Whether you are an athlete, coach or one of the TIGER fans, help us follow and encourage the values of respect, fairness, civility, honesty and responsibility for fair play at all times.

Leading the Field.

It takes drive, commitment, and ability to be a leader.

That's what brought Sanders Bros., Inc. to the front. And that's what will keep us there.

Conference Center

Hosts of this year's most exciting conference action.

For a winning conference, trade show, banquet or meeting, make the handoff to Palmetto Expo Center. We're set to tackle special events of any size or scope. Our starting lineup includes 420,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space, an outdoor courtyard, and banquet seating and service for up to 2,500 people. To set your game plan in motion, we field special teams for catering, light and sound, and event staging. For conference action, Palmetto Expo Center is an odds-on favorite.

Textile Hall Corporation, owner of Palmetto Expo Center, is the proud donor of the Textile Bowl Trophy, presented each year to the winner of the Clemson-North Carolina State game in honor of the textile graduates of these two fine universities.

Saluting over 100 years of Tiger Football.

Tillman Hall

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955 Clemson became a civilian co-educational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state Legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U.S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

The Clemson Student

*Almost 50 percent of last year's entering freshmen participated in the Advanced Placement program with more than 50 percent receiving credit for one or more courses.

CLEMSON[®]

U N I V E R S I T Y

*There is plenty of room for individual attention in the classroom, Clemson features a student to instructor ratio of 17 to 1.

*Clemson features a competitive student body, and thus a degree that has meaning. Clemson's 1998 entering freshman class achieved an average SAT score of 1145. This score is the highest ever attained by Clemson's entering students and once again leads the state's public colleges and universities.

*Clemson has a mentoring program to help students prepare and compete for Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, or Fulbright Scholarships.

*Clemson's total enrollment of 16,685 represents 50 states and 80 foreign countries.

*More than 450 employers interview Clemson students on campus each year through the University's Career Center.

*The Clemson family includes a mentoring and support network of over 80,000 alumni world-wide.

The Clemson Education

*U.S. News and World Report ranked Clemson the leading national university in South Carolina and 38th among the nation's top public universities.

*Clemson features a diverse curriculum, there are 73 undergraduate degree programs and 74 graduate degrees.

*Average class size is 31 students.

*Clemson's five different colleges include: Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences; Architecture, Arts, and Humanities; Business and Public Affairs; Engineering and Science; and Health, Education, and Human Development.

*With the goal of maintaining the vision of Thomas Clemson, the school continues to place importance on the studies of agriculture, scientific, technological, and business courses. These courses and others help the Clemson student prepare for life in our fast-paced and changing society.

*Calhoun College, the Clemson Honors Program strives to enrich the educational experience of highly motivated, academically talented students by providing opportunities for scholarship and research not ordinarily available to undergraduates. Established in 1962. Calhoun College is the oldest and largest honors program in South Carolina.

*Clemson University is a land-grant, state-assisted university accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the bachelor's, master's, specialist and doctoral degrees.

*Clemson was one of the two South Carolina institutions to be selected for inclusion in America's 100 Best College Buys, 1998-99.

*Clemson is the only state-supported institution in South Carolina to be recognized in the 1998-99 edition of Peterson's Competitive Colleges: Top Colleges for Top Students.

*The Finance Department is among the best in the nation - listed ahead of such schools as Yale and Penn State - according to the Journal of Finance.

*The Management Department is ranked among the top 10 in the nation by Decisions Sciences Institute in research productivity in production and operations management.

*Our Department of Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management ranks among the top three of its kind in the nation.

Memorial Stadium-Death Valley

Clemson Memorial Stadium has been held in high esteem for many years. Whether it be players from the 1940s and 1950s, opposing players from the 1970s and 1980s, or even professional players in the 1990s, the ambiance of this special setting is what college football is all about.

This year the storied edifice will add to its legend when the first meeting of father and son head coaches (Bowden Bowl I) takes place before a sell-out crowd of over 84,000 fans.

In the 1970s, 1980s and 1990s, various publications have named top 10 stadiums in college football and Clemson Memorial Stadium, affectionately known as "Death Valley," has been a common denominator on those lists.

The facility's mystique is derived from its many traditions, which date to its opening in 1942, the legendary games and players, and Clemson's corresponding rate of success. Clemson has won 199 games in the previous 57 years there (199-78-7) and has won over 70 percent of the contests. Twenty-eight times since 1983, crowds have exceeded 80,000.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need".

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 58th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard said that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he said. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard said that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Clemson Traditions

FIRST FRIDAY PARADE

The Clemson football season kicks off each year with the annual First Friday Parade. The once a year event takes place on the Friday afternoon prior to the first home football game. Floats from various fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations are represented in the parade that rolls down highway 93 in front of the President's house in Clemson. The parade culminates at the Amphitheater in the middle of campus where the first Pep Rally of the year takes place.

The Grand Marshall of the Parade is featured at the Pep Rally. Recent Grand Marshals have ranged from former PGA professional Dillard Pruitt, to College Football Hall of Fame legends Jess Neely and Frank Howard, to noted television announcers Brent Musburger and Ara Parseghian.

HOMECOMING

Clemson holds a classic homecoming every year. Displays by fraternities and sororities that are months in the making, are built on Bowman Field the week prior to Homecoming weekend. It is an event that draws alumni and friends of Clemson from all over the country.

The Friday evening prior to the game, Tigerama is held in Death Valley, which is an event that attracts over 35,000 fans. It is widely known as the largest pep rally in the world. The Homecoming Queen and her court are presented in addition to Homecoming skits, a pep rally, and a large and loud fireworks display.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Clemson met Centre. Clemson has a 54-18-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .740 winning percentage, and has outscored the opposition 1,578-976 in those previous 75 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 12. Clemson has been especially successful on Homecoming in recent years, posting a 24-2-2 record since 1970.

ORANGE PANTS

The tradition of the Clemson team wearing orange pants is new according to tradition standards. The Tigers first wore the all orange uniform for the final game of the 1980 season against South Carolina. Clemson upset the 14th ranked Gamecocks and Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers, 27-6. The victory set the stage for Clemson's National Championship run of 1981.

Overall, Clemson is 32-9 in orange pants since that 1980 game, including a 19-2 record in games played in the month of November. The Tigers had an eight-game winning streak in orange pants snapped in the 1996 Peach Bowl against Louisiana State. Clemson has nine wins over top 20 opponents when wearing orange pants, including the 22-15 National Championship clinching win over Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

ROCK, HOWARD'S

When the Clemson team gathers to run down "The Hill", the players first rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, for a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. In that game, the Tigers rallied from 18 points down with 17 minutes to play. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

THE TIGER PAW

The Tiger Paw logo has become synonymous with the University's athletic teams since its invention by John Antonio. Antonio was an innovative account executive with Henderson Advertising in Greenville, and prior to the 1970 season, unveiled the Paw as Clemson's new logo. It has shown up all over the country on items owned by Clemson fans from shirts to hats to the now famous "two-dollar bills". Many institutions with a feline as a mascot have used the logo, or an impression of it.

Antonio also came up with the phrase, "Fly the friendly skies of United," when he worked for the Leo Burnette Agency in Chicago. "I've never had a logo or an emblem copied as much as the Tiger Paw," said Antonio, now 69 and living in Greenville.

Antonio still remembers the day he made the presentation of the Tiger Paw to Frank Howard, then the Clemson Athletic Director. "He wasn't saying much at all," recalled Antonio in an article in the Greenville News by Alyce Atkinson on Feb. 16, 1997. "I kind of thought I was losing this fight." At this point Antonio pulled out an orange football helmet with a tiger paw painted on the side.

"Coach Howard's eyes got as big as saucers and he smiled. From there it was downhill. Coach Howard wanted that helmet." Those Tiger paws are still on the Clemson helmets today.

Volleyball

by Julie Paré

As the Clemson volleyball team enters the 1999 season, the team's strength will lie in its depth. The Tigers return 12 veterans that are looking to earn Clemson's fifth NCAA Tournament bid and sixth 20-win season in the last seven years.

"This group of seniors was an integral part of winning Clemson's first ACC title two years ago," said seventh-year head coach Jolene Jordan Hoover. "In talking with the seniors collectively and individually, they all feel so positive about this team. They're very proud of their accomplishments so far, and they really would like to win the ACC Championship their senior year. They know it's going to be tough, because they know the league is strong, but they are welcoming that challenge."

The Tigers lost just one senior from last year's team, middle blocker Stephanie Schulz. Schulz set the Clemson career block assist record with 432 blocks last season.

Clemson returns senior Cindy Stern, an all-ACC second team selection at the other middle blocker position. Stern, who ranked second in the ACC with 1.37 blocks per game in 1998, is looking to rewrite the Tiger record book this season. She ranks third on the career block assists list with 364 block assists and is in fifth place on the career block solos list with 120.

"Cindy is probably one of the most respected middles in the ACC," said Hoover. "With her experience at Clemson over the last three seasons and with her national team experience in 1998, she is definitely looking to have a great senior year."

Junior Jackie Dalleska, redshirt-freshman Anne Berki and freshman Mallory Benson will look to fill the spot vacated by Schulz. Dalleska played in 11 matches last season. "Jackie has worked really hard over the off-season and is one of our best blockers on the team. She's definitely competing for that open position," said Hoover.

Berki redshirted last season and looks to provide depth for the Tigers at the middle blocker position, while Benson was one of the top recruits in the Midwest. She earned all-state and high school All-American honors as a senior at Angola (IN) High.

Hoover sees the outside hitter position as one of the team's strongest positions. Clemson returns three senior starters, including Alison Coday, who was named to the all-ACC second team, the ACC all-Tournament team and the AVCA all-District team last season.

"Alison is one of the top outside hitters in the league," said Hoover. "Her strong net play can be very intimidating to other teams. Alison just keeps getting better."

Senior Skye Frost started every match at outside hitter last season. She led the ACC with 0.45 service aces per game and was third in the conference with 3.60 digs per game.

"Skye is such a steady player for us," said Hoover. "She is so consistent and just a stabilizer for this team."

Senior Emily Gorla played mainly as a defensive specialist for Coday last season, but will see more time in the front row as well this season. She started 24 matches in 1998 and ranked third on the team with 278 digs.

Sophomore Meredith Kirtland also returns in the outside position. She played in 11 matches last season and recorded nine kills and 12 digs at home against North Carolina.

"Meredith had a really productive spring season and is making strong progress," said Hoover. "She is playing behind some very good outside hitters. With those three going into their senior year, Meredith will see even more playing time in the spring. Next spring she will have a huge opportunity to solidify a spot for herself."

Right side hitter Jodi Steffes, the 1998 ACC Rookie-of-the-Year, is coming off a tremendous freshman season. She was a member of the ACC all-Freshman team and the AVCA all-District team after finishing the season with 272 kills and 83 blocks. Steffes led Clemson with 14 kills, no errors and 26 attempts for a .538 hitting percentage against second-ranked Penn State in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

"Jodi has been a wonderful addition to our team," said Hoover. "She competes hard and has a fantastic work ethic. Jodi came in and immediately fit into the team and made an impact, and that is a tribute to her."

Junior Missy Kudelka and senior Mary Trull return at the setter position. Kudelka started every match last season and tallied 1,469 assists, the third-best season total ever by a Clemson setter. She ranked fifth in the league with 12.14 assists per game.

"Missy directed the offense well for her first year handling the quarterback position," said Hoover.

Freshman Jessi Betcher, Clemson's first Volleyball Magazine "Fab 50" selection, will challenge Kudelka this season. She was named to the all-state and all-league first teams three consecutive seasons at Boulder (CO) High. Betcher trained with the Boulder Volleyball Club in the off-season, and helped the team to an 11th-place finish at Junior Nationals in 1998.

"We may be able to do some different things offensively in utilizing the strengths of both Missy and Jessi," Hoover feels. "Jessi is a very solid player, but in addition she brings some intangibles that you like to see in a setter. Her heart and desire, her enthusiasm and leadership abilities are all qualities that make her a great player."

The Clemson roster also includes two defensive specialists that can contribute to this team. Junior Heidi Cooper played in 20 matches last season and averaged 1.25 digs per game and sophomore Tami BySura played in 18 matches as a defensive specialist for the Tigers.

Clemson has one new addition to the coaching staff. Assistant coach Karrie Downey Larsen joins Hoover and fourth-year assistant coach Heather Kahl.

Clemson, ranked 27th in the AVCA preseason poll, is opening the season this weekend at the Michigan State Volleyball Classic, where the Tigers will face 16th ranked Texas A&M, and host Michigan State, who is ranked 22nd. Clemson will return home to the Big Orange Bash September 10-12, where the Tigers will play host to Kentucky and 29th ranked Notre Dame.

Heading into the program's seventh season under Hoover, the Clemson volleyball team is looking to build on the first six years of success. Six seasons that produced the school's first ACC Championship (1997), four NCAA Tournament appearances, three ACC Rookie of the Year selections, and one ACC Tournament MVP. With 12 veterans in place and a cast of outstanding newcomers, the Tigers should be up for the task.

The Tigers were selected as the preseason favorites to win the ACC Championship by the conference's nine head coaches.

David Evans

by Bernie Merritt

It's fourth down, the highly potent opposing offensive machine that has been known for putting up record numbers has stalled and this is the last chance to salvage a game that has turned into a real life nightmare. Imagine the head coach's frustrations as he peers behind his shades to the opposite sideline where the entire team is congratulating the 5-8 cornerback who has almost single-handedly turned the game in favor of the underdog. He wonders how such a diminutive corner could possibly cover his over 6-2 wide receivers. What senior David Evans may lack in height, he makes up for in speed, intelligence and his unrelenting desire to play football.

It is this insatiable desire that has helped Evans reach his final season at Clemson. Beginning with his playing days at Abbeville High School, the road to football and college was an extremely tough one to say the least. Although he had great success as a standout defensive back and running back in his final year at Abbeville, the fact that he was just 5-8 seemed to be the only thing that mattered to most college coaches.

During his senior season, he was named to the All-Region team and was voted team MVP after playing both offense and defense. At the same time Evans led the basketball team in scoring for two years and was chosen the team's top defensive player both seasons. However, the only stat that continued to really stick out was his height. It seemed that no matter what he did or how much success he enjoyed it was just not going to be good enough.

"A lot of coaches steered clear of me because of my size. I got a few offers from some smaller schools, but financially it just wasn't realistic," Evans said.

So with visions of playing college football seemingly dashed by the doubters and skeptics who thought he would never make it, Evans enrolled at Clemson just like any other student. "I just wanted to come here and do my thing and get my degree."

In the fall of 1995, Evans went to class like everyone else. But things weren't as normal as they appeared. Back home his father was by himself as he took care of Evans' two sisters and his brother, while his mother and grandmother suffered through long illnesses.

Evans turned to his cousin Leomont Evans, a senior defensive back on the Clemson team, for support and guidance during this traumatic time. Leomont, now a member of the Washington Redskins, helped David stay focused and led him to a career on the Clemson football team. "Leomont really wanted me to be at Clemson with him and I thought it would be great to follow in his footsteps," said Evans.

That spring, at the suggestion of his cousin, Evans started spring practice with about 20 other walk-on hopefuls. Despite a rigorous conditioning program Evans proved that he was there to stay. By the time spring practice had ended, Evans was one of just four walk-ons who had managed to survive the physical exhaustion that was demanded to make the team.

However, success was accompanied by tragedy as his grandmother died, and 34 days later his mother also succumbed to her lengthy illness. Evans was devastated as he tried to find a way to cope with his losses. Evans' personal struggles soon spilled over into the classroom where his grade-point average fell dramatically. He now found himself ineligible for the team he had worked so hard to make.

Most people thought that Evans would almost certainly return home and give up his dreams of college and especially football. This time he would not return to his role as a normal everyday student. Evans was convinced that he could once again make the team if he just improved his grades.

With the help of former defensive backs coach Charlie Harbison and of course his cousin, Evans showed that he belonged on the team. In the spring of 1997, he began the rebuilding process with more hard work and had several key plays during scrimmages. He continued to work to prove that his size would not take away from his speed, intelligence and desire.

On October 3, 1997, Evans became the first walk-on to start as a position player for former coach Tommy West. "I'll never forget the first time I rubbed the rock and ran down the hill to make my first start," commented Evans.

Evans was ready to prove to everyone that even though he was shorter than most corners he could still play football. With UTEP gunning right for him, Evans did more than hold his own as he had three tackles and two passes broken up. "They were coming right after me on just about every pass play. I would too if I was the offensive coordinator," remembers Evans.

Evans relentless strong play led to two more starts in 1997. In the 11 games he played, Evans made 21 tackles and had three passes broken up. He had his best game versus Maryland when he was third on the team with nine tackles. He helped lead the Tiger defense as they held the Terps to just nine points.

Evans continued his hard work off the field as well, making the ACC Academic Honor Roll during the 1997-98 school year. On the field Evans endured through more training and hard work. He established himself with the second-best power index on the team and the fifth-best vertical jump with 33.5 inches.

Although he kept working, unfortunately the 1998 season did not turn out as expected. Evans played in every game, but only on special teams, where he tallied four tackles during the season. "I was disappointed but I kept working and tried to improve myself everyday," Evans said.

This type of attitude is something that new defensive backs coach Jack Hines says the Tigers will need in 1999. "With the new game plan we have, we are going to need guys that will work hard to get it right," Hines said.

Just like life, opponents have gone right after Evans thinking he would be an easy target. Just like life, the opponents have found out that Evans is a lot tougher than anticipated. Defensive coordinator Reggie Herring admires his strength both physically and mentally. "David makes up for his size with intelligence and heart. He has a lot of confidence in himself and it shows on the field," said Herring.

Evans acknowledges that his road to college and football would not have even been possible if it were not for the help of his cousin. "Leomont has meant the world to me. There is no way I can repay him for everything he has done," he said.

Life still continues to bring challenges for Evans. This spring he tore his ACL, which forced him to work even harder to be ready for the fall. "There are a lot of things I can't do physically the way I did before, but I hope to be ready. Right now I just need to get stronger mentally," said Evans.

Evans' realizes that life will continue to come after him even after this football season. He hopes to perhaps join his cousin playing football at the next level or continue with his marketing degree, but right now he's happy being the guy people tend to overlook. "I like being the underdog," he said. "I like going out and fighting and proving people wrong. I have done it before and will continue to do it in the future."

David Evans is looking to bounce back after a torn ACL sidelined him during the spring practice.

Jerry Butler

by Tim Bourret

Coaches from all over the ACC area gathered for the North-South All-Star game in Columbia in late July of 1975. The game, which is now played at Myrtle Beach in December, was the final high school event of the year and a final showcase for soon-to-be first-year freshmen.

Ninety percent of the participants were highly recruited signees from the previous February who were ready to join Division I schools from all over the Southeast. But, at one juncture of the game a wide receiver who had not signed a football scholarship with any school took over the game.

Jimmy Kiser, now the quarterbacks coach at NC State, threw a pass over the middle to a wide receiver named Jerry Butler of Ware Shoals High School. Butler turned on the speed and raced untouched 70 yards for a score. The college coaches, who were not familiar with the track star, took notice and collectively asked, "Who is that guy?"

That included the Clemson coaches. Much to their glee, they discovered by the end of the evening, that Jerry Odel Butler was in fact coming to Clemson....on a track scholarship.

Chalk up another odd recruiting story for the Clemson program. Butler went on to star at Clemson, earning first-team AP All-America honors, and leading Clemson to uncharted team accomplishments. Today, Butler will become the sixth member of the Clemson Football Ring of Honor; the highest honor accorded a Tiger gridder. He is the fifth player to be inducted, joining Banks McFadden, Steve Fuller, Jeff Davis and Fred Cone. Frank Howard, Clemson Head Coach for 30 years, is also enshrined.

Now, two of the five players in the ring came to Clemson without any fanfare at all. While Butler came to Clemson on a track scholarship, Fred Cone came to Clemson without having played any high school football. He was recommended by Frank Howard's sister, who was impressed by the way he could dive into the next door neighbor's pool.

Butler's recruitment is even more bizarre when you take into account that he was actually signed by Dr. I.M. Ibrahim, who doubled as Clemson's track and soccer coach in the mid-seventies. Ibrahim is known for coaching Clemson to two NCAA Championships in soccer, the other "football team" at Clemson.

Whatever the means of his sojourn to Clemson, the school has certainly been a better place because of Butler's attendance. A diligent student, who earned his degree in 1980, Butler still is a standard for wide receivers and Clemson players regardless of position.

Statistically, Butler's accomplishments are countless. He was a model of consistency, as shown by his 35-game streak of making at least one reception, a streak he set between 1976-78, a record that is still in tact today. He concluded his career with 139 receptions for 2223 yards and 11 touchdowns, a 16-yards per catch rate. All those figures are still in the top five in Clemson history. Butler still holds the Clemson single game reception yardage record with 163 against Georgia Tech in 1977. His 58 catches in 1978 stood as a record until Tony Horne's 70-reception season of 1997.

The honors certainly followed, especially after his senior year. Butler appeared on the Bob Hope Christmas Special in 1978 due to his selection to the Associated Press All-America team, the only first-team AP All-America receiver in Clemson history.

While Clemson fans will always remember his considerable statistics and honors, one play stands out. At South Carolina in 1977, Clemson trailed the Gamecocks 27-24 in the final minutes. The Tigers needed a victory to clinch a Gator Bowl berth, a selection that would be Clemson's first bowl invitation since 1959.

Steve Fuller, also a member of Clemson's Football Ring of Honor, quarterbacked Clemson to the South Carolina 20. With just 49 seconds left, Fuller lofted a ball to the right corner of the endzone toward Butler. Using every ounce of his exceptional athletic ability, Butler made a leaping backwards diving reception, giving Clemson a 31-27 victory.

"We see him make plays like that all the time in practice," said Steve Fuller after the game. "I guess we just take it for granted. When I saw the defensive back line up on Jerry at the line of Butler's catch at South Carolina in 1977 is still regarded as the most famous single play in Clemson football history.

- *Still Holds Clemson record for reception yardage in a game (163)
- *Still ranks third in Clemson history in career receptions and reception yardage

at Buffalo Bills

- *Set NFL rookie receiving records for touchdowns and receiving yardage vs. New York Jets in 1979.
- *Named to AFC Pro Bowl Team in 1980
- *One of five finalists for NFL Man of the Year in 1981
- *Named Buffalo Bills Man of the Year in 1982
- *Won Jackie Robinson Award for Community Service in 1983
- *Ranks fourth in Bills history in career touchdown receptions and career yardage scrimmage I knew the play would work. We had done it in practice and we knew what to do. I knew if I could just get him the ball it would be a touchdown. You came to expect that from Jerry."

That season, that game, that catch, launched the Clemson program on a 20-year run that saw Clemson return to the national rankings, bowl selections, ACC Championships and a National Championship. Many Tiger supporters wonder how fate would have dealt the Clemson program had Butler not made that catch.

Given these heroics at Clemson, Butler was taken as the number-five selection of the entire 1979 NFL draft by the Buffalo Bills. That is still the second highest draft choice by a Clemson player in history, only a number-three selection of Banks McFadden in 1939 is higher.

Unlike his first season at Clemson, Butler did not sneak up on anyone. He had dreamed of playing in the NFL and wasted little time, signing a contract just six days after the draft, the first first-round draft pick to sign that year.

Butler made Buffalo's front office look smart, as he set NFL rookie records for touchdown receptions (4) and reception yardage (255) in a 1979 contest against the New York Jets. "That was the best single game performance I've ever seen from a wide receiver," said NBC broadcaster and former NFL quarterback John Brodie. "I played the game for 16 years, but I've never seen anything like that." Those single game numbers are still records for the Buffalo franchise.

Butler ended his rookie year with 48 receptions for 834 yards and four scores and was named the AFC Rookie of the Year by the Sporting News. The following year he increased his reception total to 57 for 832 yards and was named to the Pro Bowl. By the end of his nine-year career with Buffalo, Butler had 278 catches for 4301 yards and 29 touchdowns. He missed two seasons due to knee injuries, 32 games that certainly could have enhanced his career numbers. Still, he ranks fourth in Bills history in career touchdown catches and yardage and is sixth in total catches.

While the records and game-breaking plays are certainly part of the Jerry Butler legacy, so are his off the field contributions to Clemson and his NFL team. There are considerable testimonials to his greatness as a man.

You could see leadership qualities from Butler before he reached the NFL. Perry Tuttle, a freshman when Butler was a senior in 1978 gives us the proper perspective. "Jerry Butler recruited me to Clemson," recalls Tuttle, himself a first-team All-American on Clemson's National Championship team.

"I visited for the 1977 Notre Dame game and he was my host. He sold me on Clemson. By the end of the day, even though Clemson had lost the game, I told Coach (Charley) Pell I was coming to Clemson."

Butler took Tuttle under his wing and helped him for many years after he left Clemson. "In 1984 I was having a difficult time. I had been traded twice. He called the front office of the Falcons and found the team chaplain and told him to look after me. I really appreciated that. Then, he brought me to a conference in Houston with a lot of other NFL veterans. It was a conference on how to deal with life.

"He was engaged to Paula, now his wife, who was living in Houston at the time. He didn't have to bring me along on that trip, but he did.

"My friendship with Jerry Butler made me a better person, a better husband, a better father."

The story does not end there. After his years at Clemson, Butler took community service to another level at the professional level. In 1981 and 1982 he was named the Bills NFL Man of the Year. He was one of five finalists for the award nationally in 1981. In 1983, he was honored with the "Jackie Robinson Award" for community service by the YMCA of Greater Buffalo. In 1986, he was a finalist for the Byron "Whizzer" White Award for outstanding community service from the NFL Players Association.

In 1987 he received the "Salute to Young Leaders Award" from the YMCA of Greater Buffalo Area. Two years after he retired he was honored with the Ralph C. Wilson Distinguished Service Award.

Upon completion of his career in 1987, Butler became Director of Player/Alumni Relations for the Bills, a position he held until this year.

He became a fixture in Buffalo, where he is also president of his own Construction Company. "It was a privilege to be Jerry Butler's coach, even though it was during only a small portion of his career," said former Bills Coach Marv Levy. "I was blessed to be his colleague when we both worked for the Bills.

"I came to know and admire his integrity and all the admirable qualities he represents. What a positive force Jerry Butler has been for the game and a great credit to the city of Buffalo and Western New York." Levy made these remarks in connection with a Tribute to Jerry Butler, given by the Bills organization last summer. Ten years after he finished catching passes, he was still held in high esteem by the organization.

This is a big year for Jerry Butler. In addition to his enshrinement in the Clemson Ring of Honor, he has made a career change. Butler has joined his former Clemson wide receiver buddy Butler is still in the top five in Buffalo Bills history of touchdown receptions, reception yardage, and 100-yard receiving games.

Dwight Clark with the Cleveland Browns. Clark is the general manager and hired Butler as his wide receivers coach.

That career move prohibits him from joining us today for the ceremony as the Browns prepare for their first game. However, 10 members of his family, including his brother Richard, a member of Clemson's National Championship team, will be present to accept the award.

Richard might summarize his brother's journey through life the best. "Jerry has been a role model for me and everyone in our family. We are all very proud."

So is everyone in the Clemson community as we salute one of the school's most significant graduates, Jerry Butler.

Rich Rodriguez

by Jacob Barker

Ask any fighter pilot and they will tell you that the key to any combat mission is having a wingman that you can depend on. With the addition of Rich Rodriguez to his arsenal, head coach Tommy Bowden has his wingman. As Clemson prepares for combat on the gridiron, Rodriguez will serve as offensive coordinator and assistant head coach.

With Rodriguez serving as offensive coordinator the past two seasons at Tulane, the Green Wave put up numbers that resemble those of a video game. Over the 22-game stretch, Tulane averaged 39.7 points per game and tallied over 10,000 yards of total offense. Under the tutelage of Rodriguez, 1999 Tampa Bay second round draft pick Shaun King emerged as one of the nation's best quarterbacks. During his final two seasons he was named Conference USA Offensive Player of Year and led Tulane to a combined 18-4 record.

Due to King's brilliant right arm, people often overlook Tulane's impressive rushing statistics over the past two years. Along with 270.5 passing yards per game, the Green Wave averaged 183 yards per game rushing. Their 246 rushing first downs and 246 passing first downs further highlight the balance with which the offense operated during the past two seasons.

In 1997, Tulane finished with a 7-4 record posting the school's first winning season since 1981. Although defense played an important role, Rodriguez and his offense were the key to the team's resurgence. The Green Wave averaged 34.1 points per game and tallied 4,610 yards of total offense, including 236 yards per game passing and 183 yards per game rushing.

As impressive as the 1997 season was for Rodriguez and Tulane, the numbers put up by the 1998 edition of the Green Wave were even more mind-boggling. The 1998 offense averaged 45.4 points per game and racked up more than 6,000 yards of total offense, an average of 507.1 yards per game. They scored 40 or more points in eight games, and through the course of the season twelve different players scored touchdowns. The offensive numbers of Tulane were quite an accomplishment, but the perfect 12-0 record posted by the Green Wave team stand out in Rodriguez's mind.

"We had guys that gave great effort and made plays when they had to at Tulane. Everything just seemed to fall into place. It is something that we can build on and reflect back to and try to do things close to the way they did it. If we go 12-0 at Clemson, we are not going to be playing in the Liberty Bowl, we will be playing in the big one," stated Rodriguez.

How did this impressive wingman and Bowden land in Clemson?

Rodriguez attended West Virginia where he lettered three years as a defensive back and played on four bowl teams. He credits current and twenty-year West Virginia head coach Don Neyland with developing his skills as a player, but says that he also learned a great deal from Neyland in terms of organization. In 1986, Rodriguez graduated from West Virginia with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Later that same year, Rodriguez attended Salem College (now known as Salem-Teikyo) in West Virginia. There he served as defensive coordinator and assistant head coach while he pursued a master's degree in physical education.

In 1988, Rodriguez was promoted to head coach at Salem. He was twenty-four years old at the time, making him the youngest head coach in college football. Ironically, he never got the opportunity to coach in a game due to a bizarre set of events that followed his promotion. Before the start of the season Rodriguez was informed by the school's athletic director that a group of Japanese investors had bought the school, and that the football program was going to be dropped. Rodriguez, who had just bought a house and a car, and who was to be married in a week, was out of a job. "I called my wife and told her the good news is that we were still getting married, but the bad news is that we have no honeymoon."

Now unemployed, Rodriguez remained positive and in 1989 finished his master's degree at Salem. Later that year, he returned to his alma mater as a volunteer outside linebackers coach. That season, Rodriguez and the Mountaineers faced Clemson in the Gator Bowl. His most vivid memories of the game were of the orange clad, fanatic Clemson fans.

"West Virginia was well known for its fan following and we had heard Clemson was too," explained Rodriguez. "When we got to the stadium and saw that sea of orange, I thought, holy cow, these people are into it! By the second quarter one of those linebackers from Clemson just about knocked Major Harris out of the game and I said this is going to be a long game. They just whipped us."

Rodriguez spent one year at West Virginia and then in 1990 took over as head coach at Glenville State College in West Virginia. Over his six-year tenure at Glenville State, his teams won four consecutive West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championships, the school's first league titles since 1959. In 1993, Glenville reached the NAIA Division I Championship game. In 1993 and 1994, Rodriguez was named NAIA National Coach of the Year. He also served as the school's athletic director during those two years.

While at Glenville, his team led the WVIAC in total offense and scoring offense six of his seven years. In 1993 and 1994, his teams led the nation in those categories. Also at Glenville, Rodriguez coached former Pittsburgh Steeler Chris George, the all-time leading receiver in college football history. George finished his career with 430 receptions for more than 6,000 yards.

Rodriguez first began working with Tommy Bowden during the summers while still coaching at Glenville. He was invited to work at the Bowden Academy and it was during this time that he and Bowden began sharing offensive philosophies. When Bowden took the job at Tulane in 1997 he asked Rodriguez to take over a Green Wave offense that had been out gained by their opponents by almost 1,000 yards a year earlier. Rodriguez agreed, and the rest as they say, is history.

Rodriguez says that he and Bowden have such similar philosophies that the two can often read each other's minds when it comes to play calling.

"On Friday nights before the games Coach Bowden and I write down the first twenty-four plays we want to call depending on down and distance and we don't tell each other what we are going to write down," Rodriguez said. "We then compare notes and last year, out of eleven regular season games, we probably matched no less than twenty-one of twenty-four plays and there were a couple of games where we had almost all identical play calling plans."

Rodriguez compares his offensive system to the two-minute drill and feels that offense should be taught in the same way defense is taught. "The best way to describe our offense is what a lot of teams have done in the two minute drill at the end of the half or the end of the ballgame, except that we do it for four quarters. We spread people out and we develop a sense of urgency, and we go at a faster tempo than you would traditionally see. We approach our coaching offensively the way a defensive coach would, in an attack mode, aggressive, and with high intensity."

Rodriguez, his wife Rita, and their two children, Raquel (2) and Rhett, who was born in May, have successfully made the move from New Orleans and are now part of the Clemson family. With the reunion of Bowden and his wingman Rodriguez, Tiger fans everywhere will be flying high if Clemson can continue the offensive assault that has brought fear to defensive coordinators across the nation the last two seasons.

IPTAY Athlete of the Year

by Tim Bourret

Any Clemson coach in any sport looking for an example of the model student-athlete need not go back in history. They just have to go to the Walker Course and locate current Clemson senior golfer Jonathan Byrd. A review of his career in general, and his 1998-99 academic year in particular, tells us that Byrd has everything a coach wants in a student-athlete.

Last year, Byrd, now a senior on Clemson's preseason number-one ranked golf team, became just the seventh athlete in school history to earn All-America honors on the field of play and in the classroom. He was just the fourth student-athlete to achieve first-team status in both areas in the same year.

Just think about that, the fourth athlete out of 104 years of Clemson athletics, hundreds of team seasons and thousands of athletes. On the course, he was a first-team All-American and led Clemson in stroke average with a 72.10 figure, the fourth best in Clemson history. In the classroom he earned a 3.6 in marketing, one of nine members of Larry Penley's golf team to make the ACC academic honor roll. Byrd was chosen first-team Academic All-American by the Golf Coaches Association and by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

For his accomplishments, Byrd has been selected as Clemson's IPTAY Athlete of the Year, an award that will be announced today, but will be presented at the Florida State game on October 23. It will be presented by former Executive Secretary of IPTAY Gene Willimon and his wife Lou.

"Jonathan Byrd is a person who continually does the right things," said Head Coach Larry Penley. He has good habits in life and in golf, habits that are hard to teach. Jonathan is the ultimate competitor with tremendous focus and that helps him on the golf course and in the classroom."

Byrd's season began on a high point. In 1998-99 he was the elder statesman on a Clemson golf team that had just lost All-Americans Charles Warren and Joey Maxon to graduation. That meant Byrd had to step up. All he did was win the first tournament of the fall, The Ridges in Johnson City, TN, against one of the top fields in the country. His performance helped Clemson to the team title and eventually a number-one ranking.

Byrd's fall season was a list of single digits when it came to finishes. His string of five straight top 10s in the fall was the longest streak of its kind in Clemson history. He finished the year in the top 10 in the individual national rankings published by MasterCard and Sagarin. Additionally, he ranked in the top 20 in the nation in seven different statistical categories according to Golfstat.

Now Byrd enters his senior year ranked third in school history in rounds in the 60s, fourth in career stroke average and fourth in top 10 finishes. Combined with his academic performances, a duplication of last year's accomplishments will someday make him a strong candidate for the Clemson Ring of Honor.

"It has been fun to watch his career," said Penley. "Even when he was a freshman and sophomore, playing with Richard Coughlan, Charles Warren and Joey Maxon, you could tell he was going to be a leader." Byrd combined with the aforementioned players to lead Clemson to a number-three national finish in 1997, then a number-two rating in 1998. With Clemson's eighth-place finish last year, Byrd will have a chance to become the first athlete in over 20 years to be a starter on four top 10 teams.

"Our entire year will be geared toward that one week in Alabama in June," said Byrd who hopes to finish his career at Clemson with a National Championship at the Grand National Course in Auburn, AL. "We will have intermediate goals along the way, but we will be pointing towards the NCAA Tournament."

"I learned a lot from Charles Warren (former Clemson National Champion on the PGA Tour this year), he helped me a lot when I was young. He was a great communicator and I want to lead as he did. The young players on our team won't know what to expect when they get into the bigger college tournaments. It will be my job to get them more relaxed, yet ready for the competition."

Byrd's summer of excellence landed him a spot on the United States Walker Cup Team

While Byrd will receive this award for his accomplishments at Clemson, he has certainly continued to represent the University with distinction this summer. It all started in June when he was selected to the Palmer Cup, a team competition between the United States and Great Britain/Ireland. Byrd had a perfect 4-0 record in his matches, leading the United States to the team victory.

1989-90	Oswald Drawdy	Golf	3rd	1st
1998-99	Jonathan Byrd	Golf	1st	1st

Next, he won the Northeast Amateur in Massachusetts, shooting rounds of 70-64-71-69 to win by seven shots. His 64 in the second round was the lowest tournament round ever. "The experience at the Palmer Cup and the Northeast Amateur got my confidence up and made the Walker Cup berth a realistic goal." Later he won the Carolinas Amateur, capturing the 36-hole match play final with a 6-and-4 victory over Steve Wright. He finished tied for first before losing in a playoff at the Southern Amateur and at the Porter Cup.

An ability to stay focused, as Penley stated earlier, has had a lot to do with his success. In golf, that translates to getting up and down around the greens. At the Northeast Amateur he missed the greens on 30 of the 72 holes, but got up and down for par 25 times.

"That is one of the reasons for his success," said Penley. "Even when he isn't striking the ball well, he can still score because he has that focus, that mental toughness around the greens. He has always had a knack for scoring, that has been a constant with him."

With his summer of success, Byrd has been chosen to the United States Walker Cup team, the amateur version of the Ryder Cup. He will compete for the United States in Scotland September 11-12. It is probably the highest honor, or highest team selection an amateur can receive. He will be just the third Clemson golfer in history to play in the event, joining former All-Americans Kevin Johnson (1989) and Richard Coughlan (1997).

"The Walker Cup means everything," said Byrd. "You strive to win the US Amateur or make the Walker Cup team if you are an amateur player." Byrd will realize that dream September 11-12 and he hopes it is the beginning of a year full of lifelong dreams.

Table Rock Golf Community

In a fertile valley along scenic Highway 11 lies a diamond in the rough: Table Rock Golf Community. Here residents will enjoy homesites overlooking bent grass greens, lakes, and streams all with a pristine view of mountains in the distance.

Located just 7 miles east of beautiful Lake Keowee, Table Rock lies within the protection of the "thermal belt" where prevailing winds and mountain contours combine to create a most equable year-round climate. "The Rock," as it is known locally, lies less than 30 minutes from Clemson and Greenville, South Carolina, and 1 and 2 hours respectively from Commerce and bustling Atlanta, Georgia.

State parks abound in this picturesque region. From Devils Fork to Jones Gap, this is the heart of South Carolina's state park system with over 15 designated state parks within 30 minutes of the community. And how is this for convenience? Charleston and South Carolina's beaches are less than 4 hours away.

Table Rock Golf Community can be your piece of Camelot in the foothills of South Carolina. An awe-inspiring mountain setting you'll never tire of calling home. Homesites and homes available, prices start at $24,900, set up your private tour today!

ACC Football

- The ACC had the nation's best record (8-4) against non-conference AP ranked teams in 1998.
- The ACC won more games (13) against BCS conference opponents than any other league and played more games against BCS conference opponents than any other league.
- Eight ACC players earned first-team All-America honors in 1998, including Clemson defensive back Antwan Edwards. Fourteen ACC players were first, second or third-team All-Americans. Clemson has had at least one All-American 21 of the last 22 years.
- Five ACC teams won seven or more games for the seventh time in the last eight seasons.
- Seven former ACC players were on NFL Pro Bowl rosters after the 1998 season, including former Tiger linebacker Ed McDaniel.
- A total of 163 former ACC players were on NFL rosters during the 1998 season.
- Twelve Division I teams had at least eight players taken in the 1999 NFL draft and three were from the ACC. Clemson, North Carolina and Virginia all had six players drafted apiece.
- Over the last two years, only eight Division I schools have had at least 10 players drafted. Florida State (13), North Carolina (12) and Clemson (11) are three of those eight schools.
- Clemson (6) and North Carolina (5) led the nation in defensive players drafted after the 1998 season.
- The ACC has had at least one first-round selection in 11 consecutive NFL drafts and in 20 of the last 21. Florida State leads in first-round selections with 21, while Clemson is second with 19. The Tigers have had 174 players drafted in history, including six in 1999.

- The ACC had five of the first 15 players and seven of the first 19 taken in the 1998 NFL draft. The seven first-round selections were the second most in league history.
- Over the last three years, 16 ACC linebackers have been selected in the NFL draft, including nine within the first three rounds.
- For each of the last three years, the ACC placed 29 former players in the NFL Pro Bowl. Only the Pac-10 had more Pro Bowl selections than the ACC. Clemson has had eight of those 29

Pro Bowl selections over the last three years.

- The ACC is the nation's winningest conference in bowl games over the years. The league has a combined .535 winning percentage (81-70-5) in bowl games. Over the last nine years the ACC is the only conference in the country to have each of its member schools play in a bowl game.
- Georgia Tech, Clemson and Florida State all rank among the top 15 schools in the history of the game in bowl winning percentage (given a minimum of 15 appearances).
- In the decade of the 1990s, ACC teams have posted the nation's second best non-conference winning percentage. The ACC is 197-104-4 against non-league foes since 1990.
- The 1997 season marked the 10th straight year that the ACC has had at least four teams participate in bowl games.
- Twelve times in the last 19 years an ACC member school has claimed the CFA Academic Achievement Award, which is awarded to the CFA institution with the highest graduation rate among members of its football team.
- Ninety percent of ACC football games involving conference teams are on television. Clemson has averaged nine televised games per year to rank among the national leaders in that category.

The Shows.

Tiger Tailgate Show

Beginning three hours before kick-off, the popular Tiger Tailgate Show gets Clemson fans ready for football! Hosted by Bill Love, Howard Hudson and Joe Erwin, the show also features former Clemson All-American Perry Tuttle, Whitney Walters, and live music by Duane Evans. Often imitated but never duplicated, the Tiger Tailgate Show continues to set the standard in pre-game entertainment for fans of all ages.

Football Game Broadcast

The football game broadcast features Clemson Hall-of-Famer Jim Phillips, celebrating his 32nd year as the "Voice of the Tigers." Joining Phillips on the broadcast team is former quarterback Mike Eppley, a member of Clemson's Hall-of-Fame who is in his tenth year as color analyst. Rodney Williams, another great former Tiger QB, provides color commentary from the sideline and anchors the post-game interviews.

Fifth Quarter Show

Concluding each broadcast Saturday for the 20th season is the Fifth Quarter Show, an award-winning two-hour college scoreboard hosted by Don Munson and Chris Scott. The show provides a run-down of games from across the nation with up-to-the-minute "live" reports and scores from eyewitness reporters. Tigers and Gamecocks, Paladins or Bulldogs, chances are they're all listening to the Fifth Quarter Show.

Tiger Tailgate Show

On Thursday nights from 7:00 - 8:00 PM join head coach Tommy Bowden and Jim Phillips for TigerTalk, the Clemson Sports Network's statewide call-in show. TigerTalk provides the inside information that fans love. Running August 26 - November 18, Tiger fans across the state have the opportunity to talk directly to Coach Bowden by calling the toll-free TigerTalk hotline number at: 1-800-200-ROAR.

Inside Clemson Tiger Sports

Talk about up-to-the minute! Don Munson hosts Inside Clemson Tiger Sports, a daily five-minute report which provides the most current information on Clemson athletics. Inside Clemson Tiger Sports airs Monday through Friday (check local listings for airtimes) on various Clemson Sports Network affiliate stations. Daily shows are also conveniently listed by topic on the CSN website: clemsonsports.com.

Strength Training

Clemson fans look forward to seeing tough, hard-nosed football when they come to Death Valley or travel to other schools to watch their Tigers in action. But some of the Tigers' most intense competition and action doesn't take place on autumn Saturday's and it doesn't take place on a field. Take a peek into the Clemson Strength Training Room at almost any time of day, almost any day of the week, at any time of the year, and you will see the Tigers building the foundation for their pursuit of a championship.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. Several years ago, it was enlarged to an astounding 11,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. Two years ago, it was expanded to 14,000 square feet. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several other sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

Within the last two years the dumbbell area and leg development areas were expanded as well as the nutrition and hydration area known as the Power Station. The Power Station features the energy and recovery drink to aid each athlete's recovery from intense training.

The plush atmosphere pro-

Clemson recently added a Power Station Supplement Bar in the facility.

vides an interesting contrast to the physical exertion that takes place in the facility. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system - a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Color television monitors are also positioned throughout the facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as Tiger strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on form correction.

The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road when the Tiger football team plays in a bowl game.

The large staff of four full-time strength coaches, four graduate assistants, numerous student assistants, and volunteers ensures that each football player receives proper instruction on the fundamentals of strength and speed development. Training programs at Clemson are position specific and designed to meet the needs and demands of each athlete. Also, each position is appointed a full-time strength coach that serves as a personal trainer for that particular athlete throughout his career.

Hard core training and competition in the weight room and the annual Ironman Classic will help each athlete reach optimal levels in strength and speed development. The Tiger Strength Training and Nutrition Program helps each athlete to become a complete player.

The Clemson Strength Training Facility has multiple stations for each training exercise. This allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

Global environmental reach. Local environmental protection.

The truest test of any great company is how it improves the quality of life and well being of the local communities it serves. At Safety-Kleen, our record speaks for itself.

We've worked with more than 4,000 cities and towns to get household hazardous wastes out of homes and garages, and away from children. By handling this material in our network of highly engineered facilities, we're diverting it from local landfills and disposing of it in the safest possible way.

Beyond that, we also recycle more than 135 million gallons of oil every year, ensuring that it is managed responsibly and in a manner that protects local water supplies. And because we've invested in the technologies that business needs to protect the environment, local companies can put more of their resources toward expanding and creating new jobs.

We do it all from South Carolina, too, which is where our corporate headquarters is located. Safety-Kleen employs more than 500 professionals in the state, and has an annual economic impact of over $44 million in salaries, income taxes and local vendor support.

As North America's leading provider of recycling, industrial and environmental services, we're providing global solutions to industries worldwide. But even with that size and scope, Safety-Kleen hasn't forgotten that environmental protection - like all the good things in life - begins at home.

Bill Keels believes that trust is the foundation of any lasting relationship. So it should come as no surprise that he banks with BB&T.

"They aren't on the golf course. They aren't fishing. They're in the bank ready to answer our needs. That sets them apart."

It's just the way we go about business, Bill. When we say we're going to do something, we mean it. Besides, golf is way too frustrating.

Student-Athlete Enrichment Program

Since its inception in 1991, the five-faceted Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has provided its student-athletes a continued commitment to excellence. Our approach is to address the total student-athlete, and we are committed to coaching our student-athletes to success (C.A.T.S.) not only in the athletic arena but in the academic, personal growth, career, and service arenas as well. As an original member of the NCAA Life Skills/CHAMPS Program, we provide opportunities and services to address the changing needs and skills of student-athletes in the years during college and after graduation.

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletics Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first support facility in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long-term goals, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on five primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

ACADEMIC COMMITMENT

The academic commitment aspect of Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The proof is in the statistics. A record 181 Clemson student-athletes made the academic honor roll in 1999. The student-athletes had a record 2.71 GPA in the spring of 1999, just .07 from the overall student body GPA of 2.78. Records were also established for number of President's List and Dean's List students.

In the spring of 1999 the Clemson football team posted a team GPA of 2.38, highest on record. Thirteen players were named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll for 1998-99.

The Academic Counselors perform a variety of duties to track academic progress. These duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

Of the 160 programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is one of three student-athlete programs in the country to be granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program.

Having tutor certification allows student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

Many post-graduate scholarships and internships are also available to student-athletes continuing their education through postgraduate studies. Our student-athletes are provided timely information regarding these opportunities and the resources necessary to assist in the application process for either scholarships or internships.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with one of the largest computer labs in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and a limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering, and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased bringing the lab to a state of the art facility. Over 40 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing access to computers throughout the world for research and communication.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

One of the key components of this program is the first-semester freshman transition class designed to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. All first-semester freshmen attend a semester-long series of workshops targeting the transitional issues of time management, organizational strategies, health and wellness issues, athletic issues, diversity issues, career orientation, and service training. Throughout the academic year, all student-athletes are required to attend four large-group programs, which focus on pertinent social, health, and athletic issues.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT COMMITMENT

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the staff at Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practical experience, and summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities and acquire information about the student-athletes for each year.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center, and the Athletic Department, the staff is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with the Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athletes with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

SERVICE COMMITMENT

Providing community and outreach service to student-athletes and the surrounding community by engaging the student-athletes in hands-on interactive programs is an important aspect of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. The staff of SAEP coordinates various activities each year to engage student-athletes in community outreach projects along with academic programs.

Another aspect of the service commitment is that of community service. The purpose of community service is to allow the student-athletes to become involved with the happenings of the community while giving back at the same time. Each year every team is required to perform at least two community outreach projects. Recently implemented was a new community service program entitled Success Away From the Game. The purpose of this program is to combine athletes of different sports in community outreach programs. By doing this, each outreach program participates, thus creating a diverse group of athletes with new and different ideas. At the end of each year, six student-athletes who have demonstrated outstanding commitment and contributions to the community are recognized as the Top 6 by the ACC.

LIFELine, another aspect of community service, consists of chosen football players who work together in specific community outreach projects. LIFELine has approximately 20 members along with a president, vice president and secretary. Once a month, these young men meet to discuss future projects. To date, they have sponsored Hi-Five Day, planted a garden at Helping Hands Children Shelter, and held reading programs at elementary schools. These young men have vital roles in both the community and the athletic arena.

To assist our student-athletes in becoming effective service leaders and communicators we provide service and speaking training, which anticipates the demands placed on a student-athlete when he/she might be speaking with a group of young people or also speaking with the media.

It's A Beautiful Day In The Neighborhood.

Flowers blooming. Birds chirping. Trees swaying in the wind. Eastman takes these simple pleasures very seriously.

In fact, in the last decade, we've spent more than 1.5 billion dollars on environmental protection. We've reduced our Toxic Release Inventory emissions by 80%. And, for 30 years, biology experts have noted that we're a good neighbor to our aquatic friends.

And that's just the beginning. With an ongoing commitment to Responsible Care®, we're dedicated to making sure that our neighborhoods around the world are beautiful. Now and in the future.

Tiger Band

FEEDING FRENZY A Salute to Jimmy Buffett

Tiger Band's new CD "Tiger Rag" features music from the 1997 and 1998 football seasons. The proceeds from the sales of "Tiger Rag" will benefit the band scholarship fund as well as help finance equipment purchases.

by Marsha Byers

Today begins another year of great football at Clemson University in Death Valley. Under the direction of Tommy Bowden and his staff, this is sure to be an exciting season. Fans' aspirations for an awesome season are high.

The band that is Shakin' the Southland is on fire and ready to start the 1999 Tiger football season. Tiger Band has been entertaining millions since its formation in the 1950s. Over the last half century, the band has performed at Clemson games, professional football games, bowl parades, and bowl games. One of the few bands to perform at home and away games; the Tiger Band will begin another great season today.

The outstanding tradition of the band still continues today. The Clemson University Tiger Band Association (CUTBA) recently released its new CD, entitled "Tiger Rag". The CD features 26 famous Tiger fan favorites from the 1997 and 1998 football seasons. It includes "Sock It To 'Em", "Tiger Rag", "Eye of the Tiger", and the Clemson Alma Mater. The CD is available at the Tiger Band Office (119 Brooks Center) for $15. To order by mail send a check (payable to: CUTBA) for $17 ($15 plus $2 for shipping and handling) to: CUTBA c/o Clemson Tiger Band, 119 Brooks Center, Clemson, SC 29634-1505.

Today's festivities will begin with the traditional pregame show. The show will begin with the "Orange Bowl March". As the band forms the script "Tigers," the members will begin to pump out the sounds of "Tiger Rag" and the "i" will be dotted.

Dotting the "i" at today's game will be Bob Dye of Easley, SC. Mr. Dye is the President of the IPTAY Board of Directors, and a 1964 Clemson graduate of the Civil Engineering program. While at Clemson, Mr. Dye was a member of The Tiger student newspaper staff. Mr. Dye's sons, Robert E. Dye, Jr. and Alexander Dye, both followed in their father's footsteps and graduated from Clemson with Civil Engineering degrees.

The Tiger Band will round out the pregame show with our nation's favorite patriotic tunes, the "Washington Post", God Bless America", and "Star Spangled Banner". Before forming a human tunnel at the base of "the Hill", the band will perform the Clemson Alma Mater.

As the band forms the tunnel, the 1999 Tigers, coach Bowden and staff will assemble at the top of "the Hill". At just the right moment, the cannon will explode, the band will play "Tiger Rag" and the Tigers will charge down "the Hill".

The half-time show today will highlight popular songwriter and performer Jimmy Buffett. Plus, there will be a special performance from the Marshall University Band.

In the salute to Jimmy Buffett, the Tiger Band will feature Parrot Head favorites - "Margaritaville", "Fins", "Cheeseburger in Paradise", and "BrownEyed Girl".

Finally the Tiger Band would like to welcome the over eighty new members to the ranks. Good luck is wished to all the first time performers in Death Valley today.

The Tiger Band is directed by Dr. Mark Hosler. He is assisted by Paul Buyer (Percussion Instructor), Cheryl Hosler (Flag Line/Twirler Instructor), and Tim Willis (Announcer).

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson Reign Supreme away.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

If defense wins championships, Clemson should be in great shape in 1999.

The Tigers return all of their defenders and All-American Josh Campbell in goal, but the big question will be who will sell the tickets, or in another words, who will score the goals.

With the loss of 1998 Hermann Award winner Wojtek Krakowiak, forwards John Wilson and Scott Bower and midfielder Jeff Bilyk, the concern for Head Coach Trevor Adair is who will step up and lead the offensive charges. The departing players contributed 45 goals and 36 assists last season.

The Tigers were second in the nation in both scoring offense (2.88 goals per game) and team defense (.458) in 1998. Clemson was also fourth in the nation for most shutouts with 14 shutouts in 24 games.

Clemson returns seven starters and 19 letter-winners from the squad that won the school's first Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament Championship. The Tigers also advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Final Eight for the second season in a row. Clemson tied the school record for most wins in a single season with 22 and was ranked number-one in the nation much of the season. The only two losses were to Duke at Durham, NC, and a heart breaking 2-1 loss to eventual National Champion Indiana in the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament.

"We have a cohesive defensive unit returning among the seven starters coming back," said Adair. "The question will be how quickly they will mesh with our newcomers and how quickly they will obtain confidence. We will be tough to score on; the question is how quickly we can create on the offensive end.

"Our goal is to defend the ACC Championship and put ourselves in position to win the National Championship. We lost some good players from last year's team and our success will depend on how players step up this season that did not contribute as much last year."

Two veteran players that Adair will be looking to for improvement on offense are Mark Lisi and Ross Goodacre. Lisi, the leading scorer among the returnees, led the nation with 17 assists last season. He contributed 10 goals to finish the season with 37 points. Goodacre started 11 games for the Tigers last season, scoring one goal and adding six assists for eight points. Adair will also be looking at a talented group of newcomers to help fill the scoring void.

"This team, with the right breaks, could easily be there at the end," he said. "We have good leadership and chemistry. Matt Elliott and Mike Potempa, who are strong leaders, will be our co-captains. These two players are excellent role models with good work ethics and are fierce competitors."

Goalkeepers

Clemson is deep in the goalkeeping position with senior Josh Campbell and sophomore Marc Paisant.

Campbell returns after a phenomenal junior year, earning first-team All-America honors from Soccer News and first-team All-ACC accolades. Campbell started 24 games and gave up only 11 goals for a 0.49 GAA, second best in the nation. He also recorded 79 saves and had 12 solo shutouts.

Mark Paisant played in three games and shared in three shutouts with Campbell. He played 120 minutes and did not give up a goal.

"Josh continues to show improvement. He is getting stronger, faster and is very explosive. Josh is coming off a tremendous season last year in which he faced a tough schedule," said Adair.

Backs

The back position is where the Tigers have the most depth, with returning starters Potempa, Nathan Rawlins, Pablo Webster, and Alan Woods. Some of the defenders will be moved to the midfield because of their depth at this position. As a unit, Clemson only gave up 11 goals for the 1998 campaign.

Potempa (junior) missed the spring for the second year in a row because of injury, but is healthy and ready for action this fall.

"Potempa and Woods (senior) will anchor the middle of the back. Rawlins (senior) continues to make strides and is very steady and consistent. Rawlins can get up and down the field whether he is defending or attacking. He gives us a lot of attacking options since he is left footed and has great pace. He is very aggressive and is a good man-to-man marker," Adair said.

On the right side the Tigers have a few options that might help the attack. Webster (junior) and Andy Heck (junior) will also be fighting for that position.

Midfield

Clemson returns two starters, Jeremy Iwaskowicz (senior) and Lisi (junior) in the midfield. The Tigers lost stalwart Bilyk, but Elliott (senior) could be moved from the back to replace Bilyk in the center of the midfield. According to Adair, Elliott had a great spring and learned the role well.

"Elliott began to show good organizational skills and had great moments last year and could really help us this fall. Any challenge we give him he has met and then some," said Adair.

"Iwaskowicz and Lisi are two attacking midfield players. We need more consistency from them and they need to take over and dominate games and establish themselves defensively. Lisi scored and had a lot of assists last year, and we expect more with another year of development."

Forwards

The Tigers will have to rebuild in the forward position after the departure of Krakowiak, the ACC Player-of-the-Year, Bower and John Wilson, three of Clemson's top four scorers from last season. All three players are currently playing on the professional level.

Goodacre and Bob Cavanagh return and could see considerable action at forward.

"Goodacre finished the spring with a bang," said Adair. He is playing with a lot of confidence and had three goals vs. the U17 team in the spring. He has good speed and crossing ability. Goodacre is aggressive and very competitive. We're expecting great things from him this fall.

"Cavanagh has done a good job coming off the bench. I would like to see him become more aggressive and take more responsibility in scoring goals. He will be a key player because of his physical dimensions. His height, strength, and ability to hold the ball will be crucial to our team.

Ian Fuller made the most progress this past spring as far as stepping up and producing according to Adair. "He has a bright future and understands the game. Once he improves his confidence, he will be a player to be reckoned with. Ian links well with the midfield players, which really suits our style of play."

Sophomores Lee Ibrahim and Ian Fuller and newcomers Fabio Tambosi and Chuck Purifoy could also see action at the forward spots.

If Clemson can find the offense to compliment its already stellar defense, the Tigers should be just as competitive or even more so than last season. That should keep the Tigers on the national scene in men's soccer in 1999.

Junior Mark Lisi led the nation in assists last season with 17. He also contributed 10 goals in 1998.

Women's Soccer

by Sam Blackman

Many challenges await the 1999 Lady Tigers.

Perhaps the biggest challenge is replacing four seniors from the 1998 team who proved to be some of the best players offensively and defensively in Clemson history. The other question that is of concern is, how long will it take the freshman class to mature and make an impact on this year's squad?

"Our goal every year is to show improvement and to be better than we were in the past," said Co-Head Coach Tracey Leone.

"Last year we made it to the Final 16 and two years ago we made it to the Final Eight. Our ambition now is to get beyond that point to the Final Four. It is going to be a great challenge for us, because we lost a great senior class, but this team is certainly capable.

"We are going to be a different team with a different style since there will be so many new faces. However, one advantage is our depth. We had a great recruiting year and the players coming in will make an impact right away. This past spring, we played different styles and had great success despite being depleted of players because of injuries.

"We are very deep in the front seven and we are going to have a great deal of flexibility in our lineup. There are going to be several combinations of players that could work and a lot of things we can do. It is our challenge to keep a close eye on our players and find out who clicks the best together."

Clemson returns seven starters and 17 letter-winners from a squad that finished last season with a school record 16 wins. The Lady Tigers finished tied for second in the ACC with a 5-2 record in league play and advanced to the ACC Tournament Championship game. Clemson finished 11th nationally in both the final Soccer America and NSCAA polls.

"The strength of our team is going to be in the unit—how well we play together. Ray (Leone, Co-Head Coach) and I have to find the right combinations. Our leadership and team chemistry will also be vital to our success on the field."

Goalkeepers

Sophomore Katie Carson returns in goal after starting 22 games her freshman season. She played 1,569 minutes and had a 1.26 GAA with 54 saves. Carson shared in seven shutouts.

Sophomore Julie Podhrasky also returns after playing in 12 games last season. She had a 1.08 GAA with 13 saves and shared in those seven Clemson shutouts.

"We have two great goalkeepers returning in Julie and Katie. They made a lot of progress last year and made significant improvement this past spring. Our defense will be strong, but we want them to cover more ground and carry more responsibility. If they do this, we are going to be very difficult to score on. They are both capable, more mature, and comfortable playing at the collegiate level," said Leone.

Backs

In the back, Clemson will have less depth this year after the graduation of Diana Akin and Lindsay Massengale. However, Clemson returns twin sisters Julie and Nancy Augustyniak (juniors), who started all 23 matches last season and proved to be two of the best defenders in the ACC.

"We will definitely anchor our defense around Nancy and Julie," said Leone. "Nancy will probably play central defender. She played in the middle last fall when Massengale was injured and did a terrific job for us. Julie plays on the left side and she too is an exceptional player. We tried different styles built around Julie this spring because she's such an asset."

Louisa Boyle played very well against North Carolina in the ACC Championship game and had a very solid spring. She will be competing to start or play in the back along with freshman Cindy Mullinix. "Although Cindy has played up top for several years, we feel she could be a tremendous back at the collegiate level. Cindy is very fast and strong and has a very dangerous, long, throw-in. She could also see time at wing midfielder," said Leone.

Midfield

Clemson lost All-American and four-time first-team All-ACC player Sara Burkett to graduation, but has starters Alison Burpee (senior) and Lea Shreve (junior) returning to the midfield.

"This spring in the midfield we had a lot of different looks and tried various combinations. Shreve has been a mainstay for us as a central midfielder. She's disciplined and is a great playmaker who we are going to be counting on a great deal to run the show.

"We played Burpee along side Lea Shreve in the center of the midfield quite a bit this spring. She has an incredible desire to win and no one matches her intensity and work rate. Athletically, she causes a lot of problems for our opponents in the middle. She can cover a lot of ground because her fitness level is unbelievable. In addition, we're excited to have Tiffany Lambert back with us after having to take the spring off. Her energy level is contagious and her perseverance and positive attitude are phenomenal," said Leone.

Another veteran is Tricia Williams. "Williams is one of our best players closing space defensively," said Leone. "She has good presence in the air, is very fit, and adds another dimension to our team because of her extraordinary quickness." Jeanna Thompson is another returnee competing to play in the midfield.

Forwards

The Lady Tigers return seniors Beth Keller, Jenny Crawford, and Libby King at forward. Keller, an All-ACC performer, leads all returning scorers with 14 goals and five assists for 33 points. Crawford had seven goals and seven assists last season for 21 points, while King had four goals and three assists for 11 points.

"Keller had a great year in 1998 and is an incredible goal scorer. She is virtually unstoppable. She certainly can be dominating at central midfielder, but up top, she is an absolute force. We think she will be the best front runner in the nation this season. Crawford is a prolific goal scorer, and we need her to come up big for us this fall. She is a very smart, tactical player who wants to win more than anything.

"King is one of our best leaders and her desire and spirit uplifts our team. She is recovering from ACL surgery so we're still waiting to see if she will play or red-shirt this fall. Either way, she is the heart and soul of our team," said Leone.

Other returning attackers include Katie Reid (sophomore), Tatum Clowney (sophomore), and Audra Sherman (red-shirt freshman). Sherman missed last season, and is coming back from an ACL injury.

Even though Clemson faces the challenge of replacing four seniors, the Tigers still have seven returning starters in their corner, seven starters that were a part of a team that established a school record for wins last season. With the right mix of veterans and newcomers, Clemson should be headed to its sixth consecutive NCAA Tournament berth this season.

Senior Beth Keller, an All-ACC performer in 1998, is Clemson's leading returning goal scorer with 14.

Clemson Sports Year In Review

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Seven Clemson teams ranked in the final top 20 of their respective sports. That includes four top 10 teams (men's soccer, women's basketball, golf and men's indoor track). Two teams, men's soccer and golf, were ranked number-one in the nation at various times during the season. It marked the fourth straight year Clemson has had at least seven top 25 teams.
- Thirteen of Clemson's 19 teams advanced to postseason play. Seven of the 13 finished in the Sweet 16 or better of their respective post-season events.
- Clemson teams had 24 individuals who were chosen All-American during the academic year—the most All-Americans for the program since 1992-93 when the school had a record 28 individuals earn All-America honors.
- Clemson had 58 All-ACC selections for its athletic teams in 1998-99, its highest total since the 1991-92 school year when Clemson had 64 first-team All-ACC players. All but two of Clemson's teams had at least one first-team All-ACC player.
- Clemson won four ACC championships in 1998-99, the third straight year Clemson has won at least four titles. Clemson's ACC Championships this year came from men's soccer, women's basketball, men's indoor track and women's outdoor track.
- The Tigers were especially successful when challenging outstanding teams. Clemson had 33 wins over top 25 teams this year and eight different teams had at least one win over a top 25 team. That does not include the golf and track teams who won tournaments and meets that included top 10 teams. It was the most top 25 wins in an academic year since 1993-94 when Clemson had 40.

The Clemson men's soccer team was ranked #1 during much of the fall and won the ACC Championship. Wojtek Krakowiak (above) was awarded the Hermann Award as the nation's top collegiate player.

- The Clemson program had five different athletes win national championships in 1998-99. Four of the athletes were in men's track and Lady Tiger Amy Geren won the national three-point shooting contest of college basketball (men and women combined).
- For the second straight year, Clemson was dominant in head to head competition against state rival South Carolina. Clemson was perfect against the Gamecocks in football, men's and women's basketball, baseball and men's and women's soccer, and posted an overall record of 13-7 against South Carolina.
- Once again Clemson was one of the top soccer programs in the nation. Both Clemson soccer teams finished in the top 11 of their respective polls and advanced to at least the Sweet 16 of their respective NCAA tournaments. Clemson was the only school in the country in the top 11 in both final polls.
- Five athletes in three different sports were chosen within the first 30 selections of their respective professional drafts. Football star Antwan Edwards was a first-round selection of the Green Bay Packers, while baseball pitcher Mike Paradis was the #13 selection of the Major League Baseball draft by the Baltimore Orioles.
- Clemson had three players chosen within the first 18 selections of the Major League Soccer draft. John Wilson was the 14th pick to Kansas City, Wojtek Krakowiak was the 15th selection to San Jose and Jeff Bilyk was the 18th choice to Columbus.

ACADEMIC NOTES

- The Clemson program had three GTE Academic All-Americans in 1998-99. Men's swimmer Will York and golfer Jonathan Byrd were first-team selections, while women's swimmer Jennifer Mihalik was a second-team choice.
- Men's basketball player Tom Wideman was the most academically decorated student-athlete at Clemson in 1998-99. Wideman joined swimmers Will York and Jennifer Mihalik as recipients of the ACC's Weaver-James-Corrigan scholarship. Wideman was one of just two ACC basketball players to win the award. Wideman was also one of just six Division I basketball players from across the country to win an NCAA Postgraduate scholarship. He was also an NCAA Academic All-District player.
- Student-athletes at Clemson set semester records for overall GPA, academic honor roll members, Dean's List and President's List honorees in the spring semester of 1999.
- Clemson's 445 student-athletes posted a combined GPA of 2.71, breaking the previous best of 2.69 set in the spring of 1998. A total of 181 student-athletes were on the academic honor roll (3.0 GPA or better), also a single semester record. The career cumulative GPA of every athletic team at Clemson is currently at least a 2.38.

- A record twenty-one student-athletes were on the President's List (4.0) and a record 72 student-athletes made the Dean's List. Seventeen of the student-athletes were first or second-team All-ACC on the field and were on the academic honor roll in the classroom.
- The Tiger football team had a record GPA of 2.38 for the spring semester, Tommy Bowden's first semester as Clemson head coach. It broke the mark of 2.37 set in the spring of 1993. The grid team had 23 academic honor roll recipients, fourth highest on record and second best by that team in the last 12 semesters.
- The Clemson golf team, ranked number-one in the nation on the course all spring by the Sagarin poll, also had a record setting semester in the classroom. Larry Penley's team posted a 3.20 team GPA, highest on record, and nine of the 11 members of the team were on the academic honor roll (3.0 or better).
- The Clemson women's tennis team had the highest team GPA with a 3.21 in the spring. It was the ninth time in the last 10 semesters that the Lady Tigers tennis team had a 3.0 team GPA or better. Six of the eight members of Nancy Harris's team were on the academic honor roll.

TEAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- The Clemson golf team finished eighth at the NCAA Tournament, the program's third straight top 10. It is the first Clemson program since the men's soccer team had five straight top five finishes between 1975-79 to have three straight top 10 finishes. The Clemson golf team was ranked number-one in the nation for 10 straight weeks in the spring and won a record tying five national tournaments. Three members of the Clemson team were named first-team All-ACC and All-Americans. Jonathan Byrd and John Engler were first-team All-Americans, while Lucas Glover, who finished eighth at the NCAA Tournament, was an honorable mention selection. Byrd and Engler represented the United States in the Palmer Cup, while Coach Larry Penley and Glover represented the United States in the US vs. Japan Cup matches.

- The Clemson rowing team, in its first year of varsity status, had a department best 28 academic honor roll members out of its 46 roster members. The team had a 3.08 GPA, up from 3.03 in the first semester. Five members of the team had a perfect 4.0 in the classroom. The team was also outstanding in the water, winning the ACC Regatta at Clemson in April. The team ranked fourth at the Central Region Regatta, trailing only Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State and finishing first among all Atlantic Coast Conference teams. The Novice 8+ team was undefeated for the season, including the victory at the Central Region.
- The Clemson football team had six players drafted by the NFL, tied for the fifth highest total in the nation. All six of the players were drafted on the defensive side of the ball, the highest number of defensive draftees in the nation in 1999. Clemson ranked 14th in the country in rushing defense, led the ACC in sacks and ranked 25th in the nation in total defense. Clemson ended the year with a 28-19 victory over South Carolina, Clemson's third win in the last four years over its state rival.
- In men's basketball, Clemson won 20 games for just the seventh time in the school's history. The victories included triumphs over rivals South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia and Georgia Tech, the first time in history Clemson has beaten all four rival schools in the same year. Clemson had the leading scorer (Terrell McIntyre) and leading rebounder (Harold Jamison) in the ACC in 1998-99. Larry Shyatt's 20 victories set a record for wins by a Clemson coach in his first year. The Tigers reached the finals of the NIT for the first time ever, defeating Georgia, Rutgers, Butler and Xavier in the process.

- The Lady Tiger basketball team set a school record for victories for the second straight year. Jim Davis's team had a 26-6 record, including the championship of the ACC Tournament. For the second time in four years Clemson defeated North Carolina to take the title. That was one of five wins over Top 20 teams in 1998-99 for Clemson. The Tigers defeated NCAA Finalist Duke twice, the only ACC team to defeat the Blue Devils this year. Two Lady Tigers were first-team All-ACC (Amy Geren and Ito Umo).
- The Clemson baseball team was the most improved Tiger team over the course of the academic year. Jack Leggett's team started the year 19-16 through 35 games, then finished strong with 23 wins in the last 34 games. The Tigers recorded 12 wins over top 25 teams for the season, including wins over College World Series teams Miami (FL), Texas A&M and Florida State. The victory over Florida State ended the Seminoles 21-game winning streak and marked the first time Clemson had gained victory over the number-one ranked team in the nation in any sport in three years. Clemson reached the finals of the ACC tournament, won the Fayetteville Regional of the NCAA Tournament and was within three outs of qualifying for the College World Series. It was the 13th straight year Clemson had gone to the NCAA Tournament, fourth longest streak in the nation.
- The Clemson men's soccer team was ranked number-one in the nation for much of the fall and won the ACC title. The Tigers posted a 22-2 record, best winning percentage by any Clemson team in 1998-99. Trevor Adair, the ACC Coach of the Year, defeated seven top 25 teams this year, a record for a Clemson men's soccer team. The Tigers reached the quarter-finals of the NCAA tournament before losing to eventual national champion Indiana. Wojtek Krakowiak was the top player, winning the Hermann Award as the national player of the year. Four other Tigers made All-America teams.
- Clemson's women's soccer program was led by All-American Sara Burkett to a number-11 final ranking and 16-7 overall record. The Lady Tigers reached the finals of the ACC Tournament and the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. It was the fifth straight year Clemson had made the NCAA tournament and finished in the final top 20 of the college poll. The program will have co-head coaches in Tracy and Ray Leone in 1999.
- The men's tennis team won 22 matches and qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the 18th time under Chuck Kriese. It was a landmark year for Kriese, who won his 500th match as a coach in a 5-2 victory over North Carolina in April. The Lady Tigers were led by All-ACC player Carmina Giraldo, who also advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

- The swimming program featured a pair of academic All-Americans, Will York and Jennifer Mihalik, the first time the swimming program had an academic All-American in each sport. It was the second straight year Mihalik won academic All-America honors. Freshman Cami Sink was the leader in the pool for the Lady Tigers, winning honorable mention All-America honors in the 400 IM and set school records in the 200 breast, 200 IM and 400 IM. Alex Ioanovici competed in the 50 free at the NCAA championship meet.
- The volleyball program advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in six years. Jolene Hoover's team posted a 22-11 record. Alison Coday and Jodi Steffes were AVCA All-District performers, while Steffes also was the ACC Rookie of the Year. Coday was a first-team All-ACC tournament. Junior Cindy Stern made an All-ACC team for the second straight year.
- The men's track team had another successful year with a pair of top 20 finishes. The indoor team was third in the nation and captured the ACC Meet, winning nine championships. Ato Modibo and the 4X400 relay team captured national championships. Combined, the indoor and outdoor teams had 19 All-Americans.
- The Lady Tiger track team won the outdoor ACC championship, ending North Carolina's seven-year reign. Erin Nett was freshman of the year in the ACC indoors and outdoors after setting ACC marks in the pole vault, at both meets. Coach Ron Garner was named ACC outdoor track coach of the year.

Ato Modibo won the 400 meters at the NCAA Indoor National Championships. He was also a member of Clemson's indoor 4x400 National Championship team.

In men's basketball, guard Terrell McIntyre closed out a stellar career by winning the ACC individual scoring title and leading the Tigers to the NIT Finals for the first time in school history.

Top 25 Clemson Players of the Century

by Tim Bourret

How many sports fans have been enthralled by ESPN's series of video biographies on the 50 greatest athletes of the 20th century? It occurred to us that we could extend this idea to Clemson football. This summer we enlisted a 28-person committee to select the 25 greatest Clemson football players of the 20th century.

The panel is composed of former coaches, players, administrators and fans who have followed the program for at least 20 years (and some longer than 50 years). We asked them to rank their top players 1-25, regardless of position. A first place vote received 25 points, second-place vote 24 points, and so on.

Each home football program we will announce five new players, in descending order. Next week in the Virginia program we will announce numbers 16-20. Here then are players 21 through 25:

#25 Joel Wells, RB (1954-56)

Joel Wells is our #25 greatest Clemson football player of the 20th century, a running back who wore number-70. In the defense minded 1950s, he broke the ACC rushing record his junior season with 782 yards, then bettered that total with 803 as a senior. That junior year he reached 782 yards in just 135 carries a 5.8 average that still ranks among the top 10 single season averages in Clemson history.

How respected was Wells nationally? In 1956 his picture adorned the cover of the NCAA media guide. He was the first running back in Clemson history to rank among the top 20 in the nation in rushing in consecutive seasons. His number-seven ranking in yards per game in 1955 is still the highest ranking by a Clemson running back.

This two-time All-ACC running back is still in the top 15 in Clemson history in rushing and he led the Tigers in rushing three straight seasons. He might have saved his best game for last when he ran for 125 yards in 18 carries against Colorado in the 1957 Orange Bowl. He scored two touchdowns in that game, including a 58-yard jaunt that is still the Clemson record for a touchdown run in a bowl game by a running back.

Wells was truly an all-around player. Remember, in the 1950s, players went both ways. He was a strong tackler who also had five career interceptions.

A second-round selection of the Green Bay Packers in 1957, Wells played four years in the Canadian Football League before finishing his career with the New York Giants of the NFL.

#24 Jeff Bostic, C (1977-79)

The list of Clemson's top 25 players of the 20th century won't do much for the reputation of recruiting services. The list is full of players who were not highly recruited. The ultimate example might have been Jeff Bostic, our 24th greatest Clemson player of the century.

A 190-pound offensive lineman out of high school, Bostic was headed for Fork Union Military Academy, where he hoped to mature physically and earn a scholarship to a Division I school the next year. But, after practice had started at Clemson in August, Bostic got a call when one of the signees decided to go home.

Bostic's brother, Joe Bostic, who would become a two-time All-American at Clemson and is a member of our top 25 list, told Clemson coaches about his brother. In one day in August of 1976, Jeff came to Clemson, picked up his books, went to class and then to practice.

By the fall of 1977 he was in Clemson's starting lineup at center. He joined forces with Brother Joe, helping the Tigers to their first bowl game in 18 years. Two more trips to bowl games followed, including the 1978 season when the Tigers defeated Ohio State.

Bostic was an all-conference performer for the Tigers in 1979 and was a team leader. In all, he started on three Clemson bowl teams. The native of Greensboro, NC went on to a stellar NFL career, playing on the famed "Hogs" offensive line of the Washington Redskins from 1980-93. He remains the only Clemson player in history to play on three Super Bowl Championship teams.

#23 Bubba Brown, LB (1976-79)

Marlon "Bubba" Brown is the all-time leading tackler in Clemson history. When you review the legendary list of linebackers who have played for Clemson, that is quite a statement. This year he is finally getting his due with his inclusion on this list and next week when he is inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame.

It has taken a while for Brown to get his due simply because of the great teammates Brown had in his era (1976-79). But, a look at the statistics tells us that Brown was the team's top tackler, a ferocious hitter and enthusiastic player.

Two games stand out in his career. In 1978 Clemson traveled to Raleigh for an ACC showdown with NC State. NC State was promoting their Brown, running back Ted, for the Heisman Trophy. He had riddled Clemson for four touchdowns and 227 yards rushing three seasons earlier.

Although the national media did not portray the game as a "Battle of the Browns" (Clemson also had running back Lester Brown), Bubba took the confrontation as a personal challenge. By the end of the game, Bubba had 17 tackles and had held Ted Brown under 100 yards rushing, and out of the endzone. When Sports Illustrated was released the next week, it was Bubba who caught the national headlines with his selection as National Defensive Player of the Week.

Clemson finished the 1978 season with a 10-1 record and was chosen to play Ohio State in the Gator Bowl on national television. Clemson won the historic game, 17-15. Again, the pregame headlines were all about Danny Ford's first game as head coach and his meeting with future Hall of Fame mentor Woody Hayes. Brown personally stymied the Ohio State rushing game with 22 tackles, still the second highest single game total in Clemson history.

#22 Buddy Gore, RB (1966-68)

Ironically, we have Buddy followed by Bubba in our countdown of Clemson's greatest players. Buddy was no less significant in his contributions to Tiger football.

Aubrey "Buddy" Gore was Clemson's greatest running back in the 1960s and perhaps during a 22-year period from 1956-78. Gore led the ACC in rushing in consecutive seasons, 1966-67, and was named the ACC Player of the Year as a junior, the first Tiger in history so honored.

Still an avid Clemson fan, who looks like he could still play today, Gore carried Clemson to the ACC Championship in 1966 and 1967. His most celebrated performance came in his last game as a junior, at South Carolina. All Gore did was rush for 189 yards in 31 tough carries, leading Clemson to a 23-12 victory.

In addition to leading Clemson to the win over its arch rival, a win that gave Clemson the conference crown, he set the ACC single season rushing record and became Clemson's first 1000-yard rusher in the process. He ended the season with 1045 yards in just 10 games.

While Gore ranks only fourth in Clemson history in career rushing, it must be remembered that he played just three years and 30 games. In his era, freshmen were ineligible and teams played just 10 games per year. Only Terry Allen has a higher rushing yards per game average over a career, and Gore still holds the school mark for all-purpose running yardage for a career with a 109.1 figure.

That last item speaks volumes about his consistency, all-around abilities and productivity.

#21 Terry Allen, RB (1987-89)

Terry Allen was noted for his toughness, perhaps the most resilient runner in Clemson history. The native of Georgia was Clemson's top rusher in 1987 and 1988, and only a knee injury prohibited him from leading the team in 1989.

As is the case with many of the players on this 25-man list, Allen was not a highly recruited player out of high school. In fact, the overriding reason he decided to come to Clemson was Danny Ford's willingness to give him a shot at tailback. Every other school wanted him to be a defensive back because they had measured his speed at less than blazing.

But, those other coaches failed to measure Allen's heart. After red-shirting the 1986 season, Allen burst on the scene in 1987, leading the ACC in rushing and setting a Clemson freshman record. In 1988 as a sophomore, he again led the team in rushing, and the year was climaxed with his selection as the offensive MVP of the Citrus Bowl victory over Oklahoma.

Allen's junior year was a constant battle against injury. He geared up for one last stand against South Carolina, and he responded with 89 yards in the first half, leading Clemson to a convincing lead. But, on his final carry of the first half, he was struck square in the knee, the area that had been giving him trouble. He never carried the ball again for the Tigers.

After that season, Allen decided to turn pro, a decision that was met with criticism due to his injuries. He felt if a team could draft him, they would be responsible for him and realize his work ethic. An injury during a senior year at Clemson would effectively end his career.

The gamble paid off. The Minnesota Vikings drafted him in the 10th round. He was injured during 1990, but the Vikings stayed with him. In seven healthy seasons, he has had four 1000-yard seasons and is the only running back in NFL history to come back from torn ACL injuries on both knees.

GOING FIRST CLASS

When Stevens Aviation decided to build a new state-of-the-art aircraft maintenance and strip/paint complex including new corporate headquarters offices, they called YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION, INC. to get things flying. Stevens, an industry leader in aircraft maintenance and sales, maximized the return on their investment by teaming with YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION to provide turnkey single-source-of-responsibility Planning/Design/Build services for their new facility.

To ensure a totally first class project YEARGIN chose American Buildings Company as their pre-engineered metal building supplier.

The YEARGIN CONSTRUCTION Team brought the conceptual dream to reality by completing Steven's 254,000 square foot facility within the schedule and under the Guaranteed Maximum Price--another "first class" project by YEARGIN. Please give us a call for all of your construction needs.
